CRPF SEEKS 35 NEW BATTALIONS TO BOOST ANTI-TERROR OPERATIONS

The Central Reserve Police Force has sought the Union home ministry's approval to raise 35 new battalions, senior officials said on Wednesday

STRENGTH OF FORCE TO GROW BY 35,000

If the Centre approves the proposal, the total strength of the force will increase by 35,000. At present, the CRPF has 246 battalions. With the added strength, the force aims to raise specialised units with a particular emphasis on tackling terrorist threats in Jammu and Kashmir. It comes at a time when the Central force is tightening its noose around Maoists in insurgency-hit areas

FIRST CAPACITY EXPANSION SINCE LAST YEAR

- The decision to raise new battalions comes amid a sense of career stagnation among officers of the CRPF with many working in the same post for years. Some have left the force as a result
- Last year, the government approved the creation of two Signal Battalion headquarters for the CRPF, in first expansion since 1988

PM sees plot in Patnaik 'ill health'

Cites video of Odisha CM's aide V K Pandian grabbing his boss' hand to make the charge

BIJOY PRADHAN @ Bhubaneswar

WITH Narendra Modi leading the BJP's charge to wrest power from the BJD in Odisha, the prime minister on Wednesday made a rather unusual remark on the health of Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik.

Modi wondered if there was a conspiracy behind the 'deteriorating health' of the Odisha CM. The statement came a day after a video of Naveen's close aide V K Pandian grabbing the CM's left hand at an election rally went viral.

"I want to bring to your notice a very grave concern about Naveen Babu. Well wishers of Naveen Babu are worried at the sudden deterioration of his health in the last one year. People who have long been working with him now say Naveen Babu can't do anything on his own. They also speculate that it could be a conspiracy," Modi said at the three public meetings he addressed at Baripada, Balasore and Kendrapara on the day. "Is there a lobby behind this, the one which is enjoying power in the state taking advantage of Naveen Babu?" the PM wondered.

ODISHA CM'S PUSHBACK

"Let me assure the PM that I am in perfect health and I have been campaigning for the last month," Naveen told the media in his pushback. He blamed the BJP for spreading rumours about his health

In his rather sharp rebuttal, Naveen said: "If the PM is so concerned, all he had to do was to pick up the telephone and ask, as he had stated publicly before that he was a good friend of mine."

Modi went on to claim that when BJP forms government in the state, a special committee will be formed to investigate the issue. "We will make the findings of that report public," he said.

It was Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma who started the row by posting the video on micro-blogging site X on Tuesday. "After today's viral video, there is no need for a medical report on Naveen Babu's health. Our issue is not with Naveen Babu but with Pandian who is illegally controlling Odisha," he alleged.

Sarma, who has been campaigning extensively in the state, claimed a retired officer has tried to physically control the hands of a sitting CM for the first time in history.

On Wednesday, he posted another such video, which was mentioned by BJP national vice president Jay Panda at the Kendrapara event of the PM.

Mirzapur weighs the hat-trick question

ANURAAG SINGH @ Varanasi

MINISTER of State for Commerce and Industry Anupriya Patel, 43, is braving the heat and dust of Uttar Pradesh's Mirzapur to reach out to the constituency's voters who elected her in 2014 and 2019. She is eyeing a third term to boost the prospects of her party Apna Dal-Sonelal, which has grown to become a staunch ally of the BJP in Uttar Pradesh.

Daughter of Apna Dal founder and OBC leader Sonelal Patel, Anupriya is pitched against Ramesh Bind, the sitting BJP MP from adjoining Bhadohi who joined the SP after the saffron party denied him a ticket.

According to observers, Anupriya's hat-trick chances are not that strong as she is facing multiple challenges including anti-incumbency, allegations of bias towards her Kurmi vote base, and a possible electoral backlash from the Thakur community following her remarks against Raghuraj Pratap Singh 'Raja Bhaiya'.

Mirzapur has a chequered history, having sent the likes of Bandit Queen Phoolan Devi and dreaded dacoit Shiv Kumar Patel's brother Bal Kumar Patel to Parliament in the past. The constituency has a good number of OBCs, SC/ST communities, Thakurs and Brahmins, and the caste dynamics can influence the results.

Anupriya's recent statement that "now kings are born from EVMs and not the wombs of queens" triggered a controversy as it was interpreted as targeting the powerful Thakur politician Raghuraj Pratap Singh, descendent of an erstwhile royal family. His supporters are now campaigning against Patel.

SHOWTIME FOR GLADIATORS

However, some see the controversy as a blessing in disguise for Anupriya, who was earlier facing polarisation of backward sections towards SP's Bind. "Now there is reverse polarisation of Brahmins, OBCs and most backward voters in support of her," says senior journalist Neeraj Pandey.

Also, such a reverse consolidation in Patel's favour could damage the poll prospects of BSP candidate Manish Tiwari.

Flight ticket booked, will Prajwal arrive tomorrow?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

HASSAN MP Prajwal Revanna, who is wanted in the alleged sexual abuse cases, is likely to arrive in Bengaluru on Friday morning.

A business class ticket has been booked in his name. Prajwal may board the Lufthansa flight (A350-900) at the Munich International Airport at 12.05 pm on Thursday and land in Bengaluru at 12.30 am the next day. However, his phone number and email address have not been mentioned in the flight ticket.

As per ticket details, Prajwal is supposed to board the flight at terminal 2 of the Munich airport and land at terminal 2 of the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA).

On Monday, Prajwal posted a video claiming that he will appear before the SIT on Friday at 10 am. If Prajwal lands at KIA, SIT sleuths will pick him from the immigration centre as the special court for elected representatives has issued an arrest warrant against him. The MP flew to Germany on April 27 with his diplomatic passport, which is valid till November 30.

Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara told reporters on Wednesday that "Prajwal will have to be arrested at the airport as a warrant has been issued against him. The SIT is waiting for him." Whoever is involved in the alleged sexual abuse cases will be arrested. Around 12 people have already been arrested, he said. P4

Bhushan's convoy hits bike, kills 2

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Luncknow

TWO youth on a bike were killed after they were hit by a speeding SUV which was allegedly part of the convoy of Karan Bhushan Singh, the BJP candidate in Kaiserganj, on Wednesday in UP's Gonda district. Karan Singh is the son of sitting MP Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh, former chairman of Wrestling Federation of India, who faces allegations of sexual harassment.

Police have seized the SUV and arrested the driver. It was not immediately known if the Bhushans were in the convoy.

Karnalganj SHO Nirbhay Narayan Singh identified the deceased as Shehzad Khan (20), who was riding the bike, and his cousin Rehan Khan (17).

After ramming the bike, the SUV also hit Sita Devi (60), who was walking on the roadside. She has been hospitalised and police personnel have been deployed in the area to ensure law and order.

The speed of the vehicles in the convoy was above 100 kmph, said an official.

52.9°C All-time record as Delhi sizzles

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

DELHI hit an all-time record with the weather station at Mungeshpur on Wednesday recording a maximum temperature of 52.9 degrees Celsius, triggering concern across the country.

However, scientists at the India Meteorological Department are examining sensors and data of the weather station for any potential error or a local factor for the reading spike.

During the day, the maximum temperature over other parts of the city varied from 45.2°C to 49.1°C. In the evening, drizzles accompanied by winds brought some relief for the people in the area adjoining Delhi-NCR.

North India has been reeling from an unprecedented heatwave with temperatures soaring to record-breaking highs in many cities. In the past few days, many weather stations in the northwestern region have reported temperatures close to 50°C. In many places, the heat was about 8 degrees above normal.

In Bihar, over 50 students reportedly fainted on Wednesday due to the heat. In Rajasthan, the deaths of at least 33 people over the past week are blamed on the prevailing heatwave.

Delhi Lt Governor V K Saxena directed officials to ensure a paid break for labourers from noon to 3 pm.

The weather office has predicted that the prevailing heatwave conditions over the northwest are likely to reduce from May 30 on account of a western disturbance that will bring light to moderate rainfall in the region. Thereafter, heatwave days will continue in June.

In the south, Kerala is expected to welcome the southwest monsoon on Thursday.

Driverless Metro train's signaling tests from June 7

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WITH the stationary testing of the first unmanned train to be run by BMRCL nearing completion, tests related to integration of the signaling system with the prototype train are all set to commence on June 7.

BMRCL engineers carry out static tests at the inspection bay of Hebbagodi depot, for the first driverless Metro train

These are part of the mainline testing of the driverless train, according to senior Metro officials. Commercial operations on the RV Road-Bommasandra Line (Yellow Line) will be launched in December as planned, they said.

BMRCL has plans to run a trip every 20 minutes initially with 57 onward and return trips daily. The 18.82 km elevated line has all its 16 stations and other infrastructure ready. But the much-awaited launch has not happened due to the delay in supply of communications-based train control (CBTC) trains by the Chinese firm, CRRC Nanjing Puzhen.

TNIE was given exclusive access to the operations bay of the Hebbagodi depot where the train from Shanghai, which arrived on February 14 via Chennai, is undergoing various static tests. "Static tests are done when the train is stationary. They include signal and software checks, wiring, some interface (communication between different equipment) and functional checks. We have almost completed them," a Metro source said. CONTINUED ON: P5

Veggies to be pricier for a month

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

PRICES of vegetables and fruits have skyrocketed in the past few days across the state because of hostile weather conditions.

Officials from the Horticulture Department and Horticultural Producers' Cooperative Marketing and Processing Society (Hopcoms) have warned that this may continue for a month.

While a kg of beans is now being sold for Rs 220 in Hopcoms outlets in the city, the prices hover between Rs 250 and Rs 290 a kg in the retail market. Similarly, the prices of coriander leaves hover between Rs 280 and Rs 320 a kg in Hopcoms outlets. In the retail market, coriander leaves are now being sold in bunches and each bunch costs Rs 100. Methi leaves are sold for Rs 220 a kg in Hopcoms outlets. But in the retail market, a bunch costs Rs 120-150. Ginger and garlic in Hopcoms outlets are sold for Rs 195 and Rs 338 a kg, respectively.

Homemakers are crying foul over the rising prices of vegetables. "Tomatoes, carrots, drumsticks and other vegetables have become expensive. Moreover, their quality is not good," Ridhima K, a homemakerm said.

Umesh Mirji, managing director of Hopcoms, said the prices are high because of the extreme weather conditions. The high temperatures followed by sudden rain have damaged the crops. Bengaluru gets its supply of fruits and vegetables from Ramanagara, Kolar, Channapatna, Devanahalli and nearby areas. It takes 30-45 days for horticultural crops to grow. The prices of vegetables are high now because of poor supply, he added.

An official from the horticulture department said the crops are not ready for harvest now. They will take more than a month to grow. "The supply from other states is also less because similar weather conditions prevail there. Besides, farmers have started looking at other crops instead of horticulture. Hence, the area under cultivation has reduced. At present, the total area under horticulture is 27.14 lakh hectares in the state," he said.

EJIPURA FLYOVER CONTRACTOR BLAMES BBMP FOR DELAY

Sources say some Palike officials misled CM, DyCM on works during their recent visit

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE construction company, BSCPL -- which has taken up the Ejipura flyover project, has stated that it has enough workers to carry out the project and reports of lack of staff is not true.

Some BBMP officials misled Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on the works during their visit to the project site recently, sources said. The delay is not because of the contractor but the BBMP as Palike engineers are yet to hand over precast segments lying on private land for the last four years.

An official from the construction firm said 55 segments and 34 bearings of the flyover that are crucial for bridge construction are lying at Sakalvara in Bannerghatta at Vijaya Babu Reddy's land for the last four years and BBMP has failed to hand over these items.

> The Palike has already paid the amount for the materials to the previous contractor, who abandoned the work. Now, the landowner who allowed the materials to be dumped on his 5.5-acre land is asking for Rs 2 crore as rent. How are we responsible for that?
>
> BSCPL staffer

"The Palike has already paid the amount for the materials to the previous contractor, who abandoned the work. Now, the landowner who allowed the materials to be dumped on his 5.5-acre land is asking for Rs 2 crore as rent. How are we responsible for that," asked the BSCPL staffer.

Also, the clearance certificate from IISc to commence the project was given recently. BBMP top officials, who had no knowledge of these developments, misguided the CM, he contended.

The BBMP did not find any contractor to take up the abandoned flyover work that connects South East to East and West Bengaluru through its 2.5 km flyover from Sony World Junction to Kendriya Sadan in Koramangala. Through the efforts of local MLA Ramalinga Reddy, the Hyderabad-based construction giant BSCPL agreed to take over the project. The BBMP entered into an agreement with the construction company and as per that, Rs 8.80 crore mobilisation fund was to be handed over to the company, but only 75% of it has been given, sources said.

The contractor, in a letter to the BBMP, also mentioned that reports that no workers being available to carry out the works is not true and it has engaged enough staff. On BSCPL's contention about clearing the rentals for the landowner, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said, "We have made mobilisation fund available to the contractor, who was expected to clear the rent through that money, get material and resume the work."

HC to state: Ensure sub-registrars register property documents

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TAKING serious note of numerous cases being filed, questioning the refusal of sub-registrars to register documents related to properties, or sale certificates of properties auctioned by banks, the Karnataka High Court directed the state government to issue a circular to sub-registrars across the state, to ensure that people who want to get their documents registered need not knock on the doors of the court every time.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while directing the JP Nagar sub-registrar to register a sale certificate issued by Canara Bank in favour of T Bharathgowda, who bought a property in Wilson Garden through auction, as the property owners failed to repay the bank loan.

Bharathgowda moved the high court as the sub-registrar orally refused to register the sale certificate dated September 30, 2022, on the grounds that the property owners owe dues to the income tax department, without issuing any written endorsement.

The high court said the apex court holds that dues of the secured creditor, bank or other financial institution has priority over dues of the central excise department under the Central Excise Act. The apex court also holds provisions of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2022, will have an overriding effect on the provisions of the Central Excise Act, the high court said.

"Unless any violation is noticed under Rule 171 of the Karnataka Registration Rules,1965, the sub-registrar does not have the jurisdiction to refuse registration of a document. Therefore, it is necessary for the state government to issue a circular in terms of Rule 171," the court said.

The court noted that sub-registrars refuse to register documents, sometimes on the grounds that software in the registration department or sub-registrar's office is not compliant with registration of documents of banks. In certain cases, statutory dues by the borrower or holder of the document are not cleared, therefore, they are not registered. All these are reasons are beyond the statute for refusing to register documents, the court said.

The court cautioned that if the sub-registrar does not register a document, and it is found to be in tune with the law, the delay would be attributable only to the sub-registrar, who will be saddled with exemplary costs when such cases are brought before court.

15 vehicles with AI cams to look at road health

ENS @ Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Wednesday informed that the Palike will soon deploy 15 AI tech camera-mounted vehicles, which will be tasked with generating data and fixing potholes on around 1,400 km of arterial roads, in the BBMP limits.

According to officials, these roads see high volume of traffic, which slows down due to potholes, while also putting motorists' lives at risk.

Software for analysis

Addressing the media, Girinath said, "There is a software, and the footage generated will be fed into the software for analysis. The vehicles will travel at 5 kmph to capture road conditions accurately. Depending on the outcome, the Palike will replicate the same on ward roads."

Earlier, the BBMP chief commissioner had stated that out of over 6,000 potholes in the city, 1,500 have been fixed. The BBMP has set May 31 as the deadline to fill all potholes.

Modern sleeping pods launched at SMVT

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

AFTER a three-month delay, the first batch of Sleeping Pods -- air-conditioned, compact beds -- was launched at Sir M Visvesvaraya Terminal at Baiyappanahalli on Wednesday. KSR Bengaluru railway station is in line next.

This state-of-the-art facility, operational at New Delhi and Mumbai airports,has made its debut in Bengaluru, courtesy the Brandmidas Hospital and Aviation Services, which bagged the e-auction contract. Billed ₹Sleepzzzo', four such pods have been opened in the first floor of SMVT adjacent to the Food Court. A top railway official said these pods would offer a new hospitality experience to reserved ticket passengers apart from fetching considerable non-fare revenue for the Railways.

Preetham Chengappa, Director of the agency, said, "Our contract here is for three years. We launched it on Wednesday with four pods."

As part of the inaugural offer in Bengaluru, it is providing the pod at Rs 300 for 2 hours, he said. "Every additional hour will be charged Rs 125. We are in the process of developing other packages too," he said.

PETER VIDAL

30TH May : I have just been asked yet again how the planets can affect life on earth. The fact is that astrologers don't think they do. The truth is that we match up patterns on earth with cycles in the sky, and then try to see what the significance might be. It's much more subtle than many people think!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You'll be attracted by stability in partnerships, possibly in order to enable you to be more business like in other areas of your life without the distraction of emotional complications. Don't be afraid to strike out on a new path. You do need to make it clear to other people that you can't be rushed, though.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There's now a chance of some dramatic interruptions to your normal routine. But there may be risks in a number of areas, so don't be impulsive and don't rise to silly, pointless provocations. And do get on with whatever work has come your way - you can't expect other people to do it for you.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Big changes are now happening in the financial department, and spectacular gains are likely if your affairs are properly organised. Turn tricky, unreliable trends to your advantage by examining all practical details and feeling your way forward very carefully.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
An electrifying development in your personal life will change your attitude to a current relationship, perhaps irrevocably, and almost certainly for the better. Social engagements will lead to great opportunities so long as you've put in sufficient effort.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Most of the action will be behind the scenes. Your charitable instincts are well to the fore and you'll be able to demonstrate to all and sundry just how caring and selfless you can be. In any case, partners assume that they have a divine right to take first place.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A number of fascinating business propositions have been hanging fire. Now is the time to move forward to a new stage in your life, possibly involving a change in your circumstances, even an adjustment in your priorities. Travel plans could be subject to delay, so plan ahead and allow yourself enough time.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Even if lively events pass you by, you'll benefit from the spin-offs. Given that potentially turbulent developments at work or at home are under control, there's no reason why you shouldn't take a few risks and give your routine affairs a good break.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Swing into action and don't be put off by opposition from partners. Mars is now a staunch ally, confirming that all obstructions will be a blessing in disguise if they help you sharpen up your act. Old friends, people you've known for absolutely ages, seem to offer the best advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may be caught off-guard by plots amongst both friends and rivals. If you are in any way worried about work, or indeed about develop-ments at home, you can reassure yourself by getting to the facts as soon as you can. Then you'll see exactly what you have to do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The only chance of success lies in close co-operation with friends and colleagues. If you team up with the right people, a whole range of current projects will fall into place. However, you must expect partners to have their own ways of doing things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It's a high-energy day, and an excellent time for you to take the initiative. If you stretch yourself to the utmost in all aspects of life, you'll have a hugely satisfying time. There is, to be sure, every reason to be confident about your long-range future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Your recent confidence may be somewhat undermined by a series of unpredictable events, so try to stay one step ahead. If you play your cards right there'll be welcome social and personal benefits. A new friend or partner might take you back to your past.

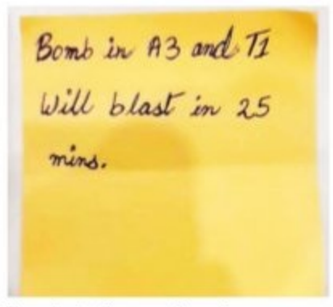
A chit found pasted on the wall in a men's washroom of Terminal 1 of Kempegowda International Airport on Wednesday morning, about a bomb placed inside the airport, sent security agencies and police into a tizzy. After intensive checks of both terminals of Kempegowda International Airport, it was declared a hoax three hours later. An airport source said flight operations were not impacted. This is the second hoax threat the airport has received within a fortnight.



The chit inside a men's washroom in T1 of KIA warning of a bomb, on Wednesday morning | EXPRESS

The threat was noticed at 3.40am by a flyer inside the washroom, said an airport source. The chit in running handwriting in English read: "Bomb in A3 and T1 will blast in 25 minutes." Alpha 3 is a multi-storeyed building inside the airport, with offices of many airlines with meeting rooms and security cabins.

According to a security official, "An individual found the chit inside the washroom airport and alerted an airport staffer who immediately alerted us. The Bomb Detection and Disposal Squad and sniffer dogs of Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) were immediately pressed into action. Many of our security personnel too intensified checks. After much checking, we found it to be a hoax."

Baggage and passenger checks by the Central Industrial Security Force slowed down as many staffers had to be diverted to carry out checks for the bomb, the official added. An airport source confirmed there was a hoax bomb threat on Wednesday morning, but refused to comment on it. A cop at KIA police station confirmed it too. This threat comes close on the heels of hoax bomb threat issued to a few hotels recently, and many schools earlier this month.

On May 17, an Air India Express flyer claimed his check-in bag had a bomb during security screening before boarding his flight, which turned out to be a hoax. A complaint was filed against him.

A top CISF official said, "Such hoax threats done for fun or with a malicious intent drains our resources. We need to take every threat seriously. Unless all checks are completely done, we cannot assume it is a hoax. This massively impacts much of our other work."

Sawmill worker kills wife, cuts off head, skins body

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tumakuru

In a horrific incident, a man hacked his wife to death, cut off her head and skinned the body in the wee hours of Tuesday at Huliyurudurga town of Kunigal taluk.

The accused, Shivarama, a labourer at a sawmill, stabbed Pushpalatha (35) with a knife after she did not offer him dinner on Monday night. Later, he severed her head with a machete, cut some of her body parts and kept on skinning the body until dawn. He then informed his landlord about the crime. The couple's eight-year-old son was asleep during the gruesome murder. When the police arrived, they were left shocked on seeing the crime scene. They arrested the accused.

"I never ever such a barbaric crime in 25 years of my service," said Amrithuru police inspector Madya Naik. Sources said the boy could not identify his mother due to the disfigurement. She had promised him to take to school for admission on Tuesday, sources said.

SP Ashok K V and senior officers also visited the spot.

The accused hailed from Sugganahalli village and the victim from Sagar in Shivamogga district. They met at a workplace and got married 10 years ago. They lived in Bengaluru and Kunigal for some years before shifting to Hosapete Extension of Huliyurudurga a couple of years ago. But their relationship strained as they used to fight, sources said. As the victim used to speak over phone with her acquaintances, the accused was suspecting her fidelity.

Self-accidents claim 95 lives in city

RAKSHITH GOWDA @ Bengaluru

SELF-ACCIDENT cases are on the rise in Bengaluru, with 159 accidents reported in just 152 days. Of these, 95 were fatal and 64 were non-fatal. In 34 self-accidents — 25 fatal and 9 non-fatal — drivers and riders involved were found to be under the influence of alcohol.

Police officers said that drink-drive and overspeeding are the major reasons for self-accidents, while experts blame lack of infrastructure and poor motorist behaviour for these mishaps. Joint Commissioner of Police (Traffic) M N Anucheth said self-accident cases have spiked in the city, with drink-drive cases reported in high numbers compared to last year. The highest fatalities are among two-wheeler riders.

Year	Fatal	Non Fatal	Total
2023	203	134	337
2024	95	64	159

DCP (North - Traffic) Siri Gowri said the number of fatalities in drink-drive self-accidents is high, with riders indulging in reckless riding without wearing helmets.

Traffic expert MN Sreehari said the major cause for self-accidents is poor driving skills of motorists who get driving licences in one week by paying Rs 8,000 to driving schools. He pointed out that the whole system of testing driving skills should be changed.

"For any four mistakes, the licence issued to a motorist should be cancelled. In India, getting a licence is easy and it becomes a a licence to kill, not to drive. In self-accidents, drivers are responsible in 68% of cases due to negligence, fatigue, rash driving and poor skills, while 22% of cases are due to road infrastructure like potholes, lack of precautionary boards, etc. Handling bad roads depends of the intelligence and skill of a driver," he added.

ST CORPORATION MD SUSPENDED; FIR AGAINST BANK OFFICIALS

CID probing suicide of official; Probe team will investigate all aspects, says Dr G

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER allegations of misappropriation of Rs 85 crore in Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation (KMVSTDCL), the State Government on Wednesday suspended its Managing Director JG Padmanabha and Accounts Officer Parashuram G, pending departmental inquiry.

Meanwhile, based on the corporation's complaint, an FIR has been registered against the senior officers of Union Bank of India.

The government order, suspending the MD, stated that anonymous persons withdrew money from the bank account from March 5, 2024, to May 23, 2024, but the officer did not take note of it and thereby he was indirectly responsible for the transfer of funds to unknown accounts. Though the officer came to know about the transfer of Rs 86.62 crore to 14 anonymous accounts by forging the documents, on May 22, he did not bring it to the Government's notice till the report was sought on May 27, the GO added.

"Though anonymous persons withdraw government grants from the bank account, the bank statements were not submitted to the State Government and it was mentioned as anonymous accounts. In the MD's report to the government, it was mentioned that Rs 5 crore was deposited back into the corporation's account. However, there was no mention of who returned the amount and from which accounts," the GO stated taking serious note of the MD's conduct.

If the junior officers in the corporation were responsible for it, the MD should have issued notices to them and taken action, the GO stated.

Chandrashekhar, who was working as a superintendent with the corporation, ended his life on Sunday, and in his death note, he had made serious allegations against the senior officers, including the MD and the minister. The CID is probing the case.

Meanwhile, based on the complaint filed by the General Manager, KMVSTDCL, High Grounds Police in Bengaluru, registered an FIR against A Manimekhalai, MD and CEO of the Union Bank of India, Executive Directors Nitesh Ranjan, Ramasubramanium, Sanjay Rudra, Pankaj Dwivedi and Chief Manager MG Road Branch Suchishitha Raul.

In the complaint, the KMVSTDCL General Manager said deposits of Rs 187.33 crore was made from various banks and the treasury into the savings bank account at Union Bank of India, MG Road Branch, Bengaluru.

The KMVSTDCL noticed numerous forged letters, forged cheques, and forged RTGS requests with fake signatures of the officers and Accounts Officer, and a forged/fake board resolution leading to unauthorised disbursements of funds from the organization's bank account. "Upon verification of the passbook in detail, an amount of Rs. 94,73,08,500/- has been disbursed to various accounts by Union Bank of India, MG Road Branch, Bengaluru, based on the forged documents," the corporation GM stated in his complaint.

The corporation alleged that the senior officials in the bank were aware of fraudulent acts being carried out by the branch officials and other third parties. The KMVSTDCL urged police to conduct a thorough investigation and initiate legal proceedings against the bank officials.

'Money transferred to IT companies'

The corporation's amount was allegedly transferred to a cooperative bank in Hyderabad and from there, it was transferred to 14 bank accounts in the name of IT firms. The bank accounts have been frozen.

BJP workers protest demanding the resignation of minister B Nagendra in Ballari on Wednesday | KPN

Did min give instructions? Probe will reveal: HM

ENS @Bengaluru

HOME Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Wednesday said the CID probe will reveal if ST Welfare Department Minister B Nagendra had given oral instructions for the transfer of money from the ST corporation. The BJP leaders have continued their tirade against the government over the alleged misappropriation of funds in Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation and demanded Nagendra's resignation. In his death note, the corporation official had made allegations against his seniors and a minister.

He said investigating officials will probe all aspects, including, if the money was transferred with the minister's knowledge. "In the case against KS Eshwarappa, his name was directly mentioned. In this case, the minister's (Nagendra's) name is not directly mentioned. We have to wait till the probe is over," Dr Parameshwara said responding to a question that as an opposition party, Congress had demanded then minister Eshwarappa's resignation after allegations were made against him by a contractor.

The minister said there are allegations that money was transferred to bank accounts of IT companies and that would also be probed.

COUNCIL POLLS

Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar greets Vice-President Jagdeep Dhankhar in New Delhi on Wednesday | COURTESY: 'X' HANDLE OF DK SHIVAKUMAR

Kharge holds meet to finalise names, Rahul's nod awaited

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

EVEN as Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and DyCM DK Shivakumar have finalised the list of Congress candidates for the biennial elections to 11 seats in the Legislative Council to be elected from the Assembly, the party high command, especially senior leader Rahul Gandhi, is likely to give a nod to the list only on Friday.

The polling will be held on June 13, and the last date to file nomination papers is June 3.

With 135 MLAs in the Karnataka Assembly, the Congress can win at least seven MLC posts. Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, who is also KPCC president, have camped in Delhi since Tuesday to get the list approved by the Congress central leaders.

According to informed sources, there was a difference of opinion in the Congress leadership about the renomination of Karnataka Minor Irrigation Minister NS Boseraju. "Shivakumar wants to get senior MLC BK Hariprasad on board by inducting him as a minister. Then, Boseraju may have to sacrifice, as only one from the Upper House can be made a minister," a Congress leader told The New Indian Express. But given Boseraju's loyalty to the high command, he may get renominated, the leader added.

Both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar held discussions with AICC general secretaries KC Venugopal and Randeep Singh Surjewala on finalising the candidate list.

On Wednesday evening, AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge returned from his campaign trail in Odisha and held a meeting to discuss the Karnataka MLC polls. Of the 300 who had lobbied for the seven posts, some of their names have been shortlisted, according to sources.

Names of Dr Yathindra (Siddaramaiah's son), NS Boseraju, Ramesh Babu, KP Nanjundi, BV Srinivas, M Venkatesh, K Govindaraju, Vinay Karthik,

AN Nataraj Gowda, Nanjaiahmutt, Veena Kashappanavar, Vasanth Kumar, Basavaraju, Puspa Amaranath, BC Muddugangadhar, SA Hussain, Tamatagara, Ivan D'Souza, Ramesh Kumar, and Vijay Mulgund.

"Kharge is in favour of nominating KPCC working president Vasanthkumar from Raichur when it comes to the selection of a candidate from the SC (Left) community," a Congress insider said.

Meanwhile, the Congress top brass is likely to accommodate a candidate belonging to the Veerashaiva-Lingayat community for the vacant seat following the resignation of former CM Jagadish Shettar, an informed source said.

Meanwhile, Kripa Alva, Matilda D'Souza, and Kavitha Reddy, among other aspirants, met the state and national leaders in Delhi. If they are not made MLCs, they are likely to get nominated to boards and corporations, sources added.

The Congress can win seven seats with 135 MLAs, as each nominee has to get 19 votes to win. After allotting the party MLAs' votes for six nominees, the Congress leadership is likely to allot the votes of the remaining MLAs and the three independents to the seventh nominee, and it is interesting as to who that will be," said a Congress leader.

It is to be seen whether BJP MLAs ST Somashekar and Shivaram Hebbar, who allegedly cross-voted in favour of Congress nominees in the Rajya Sabha polls, repeat the same in the MLC polls.

Vijayendra responsible for BSY going to jail: Cong MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE controversy Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) state president BY Vijayendra sparked over Primary and Secondary Education Minister Madhu Bangarappa's hairstyle is not likely to die down soon, with Chikkaballapur Congress MLA Pradeep Eshwar joining the issue on Wednesday.

Pradeep on Wednesday alleged that Vijayendra was responsible for his father and former chief minister BS Yediyurappa going to jail in a case. "Except being the son of Yediyurappa, what credit do you have to be the party's state chief? You snubbed leaders who built the party for 30-40 years. You have no guts to act against KS Eshwarappa and Basanagouda Patil Yatnal. I have a lot of respect for BSY, but he had to go to jail for someone forging his 'chota sign'. Who did that chota sign," he asked with sarcasm.

Defending Madhu, he said the minister's hairstyle is his choice. Madhu has taken an initiative to fill 12,000 teachers' vacancies, conducted the SSLC examination strictly besides ensuring three exam attempts for students to improve their marks, he added.

Pradeep said he will resign as MLA if Congress Lok Sabha candidate Raksha Ramaiah loses in Chikkaballapur.

On BJP candidate Dr K Sudhakar's allegation that Pradeep destroyed the academic environment in Chikkaballapur, he said, "The person who has passed MBBS with fake marks cards speaks against me like that only."

He claimed Congress will win 19-21 Lok Sabha seats in Karnataka and I.N.D.I.A will come to power at the Centre.

Ahead of likely India return, Prajwal files for anticipatory bail

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HASSAN MP Prajwal Revanna, who is facing allegations of sexually assaulting women, approached the special court for the trial of cases against sitting as well former MPs/MLAs seeking anticipatory bail in three cases registered against him on various charges, including rape.

Prajwal, who released a video earlier this week stating that he will appear before the Special Investigation Team (SIT) on May 31, filed the anticipatory bail applications in all three cases fearing his arrest by the SIT immediately after he lands in Bengaluru.

After issuing notice to the SIT on the pleas to file objections if any, Judge Santhosh Gajanan Bhat adjourned the hearing to May 31.

Meanwhile, the special court heard the arguments on the anticipatory bail petition filed by Prajwal's mother Bhavani Revanna in a kidnap case. The court will pronounce the order on May 31.

On the other hand, Prajwal's father and JDS MLA HD Revanna moved the Karnataka High Court challenging the legality of two cases registered against him in Holenarasipura Town Police Station in Hassan district on charges of sexual assault and KR Nagar Police Station in Mysuru district on charges of abducting a woman.

The SIT has also approached the HC seeking cancellation of the bail granted to Revanna by the special court in connection with the case registered in KR Nagar police station over the alleged abduction of a victim. Revanna's petitions, as well as SIT's petition, are likely to come up for hearing shortly.

SIT, FSL TEAMS VISIT PRAJWAL'S QUARTERS IN HASSAN

The Special Investigation Team (SIT) probing the alleged sex scandal and officials of the Forensic Science Laboratory (SFL) visited the official quarters of NDA candidate and Hassan MP Prajwal Revanna in Hassan. SIT and FSL officials entered the MP's quarters on Tuesday night and returned to Bengaluru on Wednesday morning. According to sources, the officials collected various samples and recorded vital evidence. SIT and FSL team jointly inspected the bedroom, wash-room and dining hall and collected bed, bedspreads, blankets and pillow covers used by Prajwal. The FSL officials also took photographs and extracted fingerprints. SIT and FSL team also visited the farmhouse belonging to Suraj Revanna, Prajwal's brother, in Gannikada, Channarayapatna taluk.

Three FIRs registered against MP

PRAJWAL, who booked a flight ticket on May 15 to Bengaluru from Munich, did not return. He hoodwinked the SIT by booking and cancelling flight tickets almost five times.

Three FIRs, including two for rape, have been registered against Prajwal. The first complaint of sexual harassment against Prajwal was filed by one of the victims at Holenarasipur Town police station in Hassan district on April 28. On May 2, the first rape complaint was registered against Prajwal at the CID police station in Bengaluru. On May 8, another rape complaint was registered against him. On May 6, the Interpol alerted all 196-member countries to identify and report if the MP is spotted in their jurisdiction. Before this, a Blue Corner Notice was issued against Prajwal by CBI through the Interpol. The SIT had also issued two notices against him.

Did Adil die of low BP, cardiac arrest while in custody?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Davanagere

THE postmortem report of Adil (33), who died in police custody in Channagiri in Davanagere district on May 24, has been handed over to the CID police.

Sources revealed that low BP, triggering a cardiac arrest, might have led to Adil's death. Adil, who was taken to the Channagiri police station for allegedly organising a betting racket, died on May 24 while still in custody. Adil's relatives had alleged that he died due to police torture and after the news spread, a mob vandalised the police station.

While the police are investigating vandalism, the custodial death is being probed by CID DySP Kanakalakshmi.

After the incident, Channagiri DySP Prashanth Munnoli, Circle Inspector Niranjan B and PSI Akthar were suspended for dereliction of duty.

Former MLA from Udupi Raghupathi Bhat and members of Bajrang Dal and VHP have demanded that the police officers should be reinstated as they made sincere efforts to control the mob.

Bhat also alleged that members of the mob are not scared of any repercussions as they are confident that the state Congress government will protect them.

CHANNAGIRI PROTESTERS DIDN'T SHOUT PRO-PAKISTAN SLOGANS: POLICE

DAVANAGERE: The Davanagere police on Wednesday denied that the mob that attacked the Channagiri police station on May 24 shouted 'Pakistan Zindabad' while protesting against the death of Adil (33) in police custody. Videos alleging some protestors shouting pro-Pakistan slogans are being circulated on social media. The police, who verified the videos, clarified that no such slogans were shouted. "The video clearly shows them shouting 'Policearige Dikkara' and nowhere Pakistan Zindabad can be heard," the police said. SP Uma Prashanth requested the public not to spread false news. If any such genuine video exists, it can be handed over to the SP's office or the nearest police station, she added.

Tribal hamlets inside Nagarahole in dark as solar lights fail

KARTHIK KK @Mysuru

IN striking contrast to the claims by authorities of ensuring basic amenities to the remotest corners in the country, tribal hamlets in the forest ranges of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve are facing several challenges.

The solar lights installed in Goluru tribal hamlet under the DB Kuppe village panchayat in HD Kote taluk, Mysuru district, have been lying in disrepair, pushing the entire area into darkness. The tribals now live in constant fear of attack by wild animals.

While essential services in the village, including the anganwadi, enjoy regular power supply, the houses in these hamlets remain shrouded in darkness owing to faulty solar lights. This disparity is particularly disheartening ahead of the monsoon, heightening the community's vulnerability and hardships.

The State Government, responding to the tribals' pleas for basic infrastructure, installed solar lights in front of all the houses in this tribal area, promising a functional lifespan of over five years. However, the majority of these lights have failed, leaving the 50-odd households in Goluru without illumination. Despite numerous complaints and urgent appeals to the authorities concerned and the agency responsible for the lights, the issues remain unresolved.

A recent protest by the residents of Goluru hamlet

"It is unacceptable that, in this day and age, an entire community is left without basic amenities. Though we tried contacting the toll-free number provided, they offered excuses, stating their salaries were on hold. Even the authorities have ignored repeated pleas for help," Sunit TR, a member of the Akhila Bharata Janadhikara Suraksha Committee, expressed his frustration.

Gauri, a resident of Goluru, shared her distress, saying that the residents live in constant fear. "Without proper lighting, we can't see the snakes and other wildlife that come near and sometimes into our homes. The monsoon only makes it worse, as the rain drives more wild animals into the village seeking shelter," she said.

Efforts to reach the Integrated Tribal Development Project (ITDP) officer and the Panchayat Development Officer (PDO) were unsuccessful, as they remained unresponsive to calls made by TNIE.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

ON December 4, 2023, the day the Congress won the Assembly elections, the CCTV cameras in the premises of the SIB were switched off from 7.30 pm to 8.15 pm. In these 45 minutes, around 50 hard disks of computer systems and servers that were part of the equipment used for tapping phones, were changed, according to the confessional statement of the then Deputy SP D Praneeth Kumar.

He confessed that the money seized from Opposition leaders was shown as 'hawala' money to avoid criticism from Election Commission and political parties.

"I used to get the targets for profiling and surveillance from IGP Prabhakar Rao and Venugopal Rao, a retired Additional SP. We used to monitor the targets and send the updates to the chief of operations. On completion of Assembly elections i.e., on November 30, 2023, we stopped surveillance of our targets. After the exit polls, our SIB chief ordered us to destroy all the documentary and electronic evidence," Praneeth Rao said.

His confession continued: "As per his (SIB chief's) orders, about 50 hard disks of computer systems and servers were replaced with new ones and the removed hard disks were destroyed. Of these 50 systems, 17 systems and one laptop were used by me and my team for our clandestine and unauthorised activities. On December 4, 2023, after the Congress won the elections, Prabhakar Rao, the chief of operations, resigned from his post. Before leaving the office, he ordered us to destroy all traces of political profiles and hard disks of the systems used for monitoring. As per his orders, I got the hard disks (around 50), documents and clandestine profiles' data destroyed by getting the CCTV cameras in the SIB premises switched off with the help of Anil Kumar RSI," Praneeth Rao said in his confessional statement.

"Initially, Anil Kumar refused to switch off the cameras. But when I informed the SIB chief, he was summoned and ordered to obey my instructions. On my directions, Anil Kumar switched off CCTV cameras from 7.30 pm to 8.15 pm on December 4, 2023 and during such time, Srinivas, Ananth and other persons from M/s Convergence Innovation Labs, Hyderabad, were called to the office and handed over their servers and hand disks. And the hard disks of our 17 systems and laptop and other hard disks from the server were removed by Harikrishna, RSI," Praneeth Rao's confession said.

He said that the electronic gadgets were destroyed by K Krishna, head constable, with an electric cutter.

Praneeth Rao was relieved from SIB on December 13, 2023 and was later transferred to DCRB, Rajanna Sircilla district. He was suspended on March 4, 2024 for unauthorised acts of destroying profiles and hard discs and switching off CCTV cameras.

"If the police teams and mediators follow me, I can show the computer systems in which I replaced hard disks at the SIB office. I also formatted my personal electronic gadgets like phones and laptops and threw away pen drives in order to destroy all clues related to crime," Praneeth Rao confessed.

Jubilee Hills ACP P Venkatagiri recorded the confessional statement of Praneeth Rao, who surrendered three mobile phones and one laptop.

RENEWAL ENERGY

K'taka to revise policy, proposes higher targets

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TO meet the rising energy demand and to improve Karnataka's position in renewable energy production in the country, the state government has decided to revise its renewable energy policy 2027.

According to the energy department, the average annual increase in power demand is 6.5%, but it shot to 21% last fiscal.

The department has started a fresh survey and a plan for resource adequacy for the next five years to address the demand and increase production. In the recent state budget, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had set a target to increase energy production from 32 Giga Watt to 60 GW by 2030, of which 28 GW is to come from renewable energy.

"To meet the target set in the budget, we have to set up more solar parks and wind turbines. A study of the locations is under way and will be finalised soon. Works are also being done to decentralise solar generation. So far, we have not added any infrastructure in solar energy after Pavagada. The area needs to be increased. In the last four-five years, no mega projects have also commissioned to increase generation," said a department official.

Presently, the state ranks fourth in renewable energy production as per the Karnataka Renewable Energy Development Ltd.

In 2017-18, the second phase of Yeramarus thermal power plant was commissioned. The Yelahanka gas-based power plant is yet to start supply of 370 MW power to the grid. Similarly, Bidadi's waste-to-energy power plant is yet to start generation of 11.5 MW power. "There has been a steady growth in power demand. But there has not been a steady rise in generation. The study will help in knowing the direction and revising the targets," the official said.

Officials are undertaking a systematic exercise to assess the past trends, the present rising trend and the projections for the next 10 years. "Though the indicated generation is 60 GW, looking at the present demand and the availability of resources, alternatives need to be thought of and calculated. We cannot rely on hydro also and thermal cannot be stretched. Due to climatic conditions, RE also needs a back-up," the official said.

'Train can be run with or without operator'

THE source said, "A simple test run of the driverless train was done between Bommasandra and Bommanahalli as soon as it arrived. The energisation of the stretch between Bommanahalli and RV Road was completed on May 20. The mainline testing can now be done on the entire stretch."

Apart from signal integration, third rail (the 750 Volt track which supplies power to run the train) and train performance tests will be done. "The train will be run at a slow speed initially and later at the recommended speeds," another source said. The CBTC train can be run with or without an operator, he added. Titagarh Rail Systems in West Bengal, which is the Indian partner of CRRC, has set up a robotic automatic assembly line to ensure that trains to Bengaluru Metro are delivered as scheduled.

"The second train is slated for arrival by August, the next by September and three more by December. Of the six trains, BMRCL will run five and keep one as a backup," another source said. Only the prototype train needs intensive tests and approval from Lucknow's RDSO and Railway Board. Titagarh is expected to supply 15 CBTC trains (driverless ones) by March 2025.

Shops at Chala Market were flooded as heavy rain lashed Thiruvananthapuram on Wednesday, stalling traffic in many places | VINCENT PULICKAL

Rain paralyses parts of Kerala

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram/Kochi

NORMAL life came to a standstill after heavy rain pounded south and central Kerala since Wednesday morning, flooding several low-lying areas in various districts, and prompting authorities to shift several families to relief camps.

The rain, which resumed after a brief overnight lull, also inundated roads, bringing traffic to a grinding halt at many places. Districts including Thiruvananthapuram, Ernakulam, Alappuzha, Kottayam and Thrissur were hit the worst.

In Thiruvananthapuram, water from the Killiyar river, Amayizhanjan canal and other stormwater drains spilled onto the streets and entered houses. Long queues of vehicles were seen on the streets of East Fort and Thampanoor, which resembled mini streams. Sixty-six people from 17 families were shifted to eight camps across the district. The corporation's flood mitigation work, though progressing, is not showing desired results.

Kochi, which had barely recuperated from Tuesday's cloudburst, saw waterlogging for the second consecutive day. Kalamassery, North Paravoor, Thrikkakara, Kakkanad, Edapally and MG Road bore the brunt of the rain in the district. North Paravoor and Kalamassery received 130mm of rainfall from 8.30am to 5.30pm, while Choondy received 90mm rainfall during the period. Around 100 people, including those from 20 families, in North Paravoor were shifted to relief camps after their houses were flooded. Several houses were damaged.

"Lack of preparedness during NH works blocked drains and canals, leading to flooding," said V D Satheesan, Leader of Opposition and North Paravoor MLA.

HC upholds removal of minorities panel head

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed the petition filed by Abdul Azeem, questioning the notification issued by the state government on December 15, 2023, removing him from the post of chairman of Karnataka State Minorities Commission.

Accepting the government's contention that Section 4 of the Karnataka State Minorities Commission Act itself indicates that the chairperson will function subject to the pleasure of the government, Justice M Nagaprasanna dismissed the petition. Azeem was appointed chairman in 2019 for a period of three years, by the then BJP government. In 2022, his tenure was extended for another three years and was to come to an end on October 15, 2025. In May 2023, the Congress government came to power in the state and all nominations made by the earlier government were annulled. Accordingly, Azeem's second tenure was cancelled.

He submitted a representation, seeking to withdraw cancellation of his nomination, which was accepted and he continued as chairman. He also submitted a representation to the state government in May 2023, to allow him to complete his term as chairman for another 2 years and 5 months. When there was a delay in considering it, he moved the high court.

During the pendency of the petition, the state government cancelled his nomination as chairman. On December 19, 2023, the high court passed an interim order, staying cancellation of his nomination. The advocate-general argued that Section 4 of the Act indicates that the chairperson will function, subject to the pleasure of the government.

Meanwhile, an application filed by the state government seeking vacation of the interim order indicated misconduct on the part of the petitioner while discharging his duties. The petitioner's counsel argued that removal of the petitioner comes under Section 5 of the Act as allegations are made against him, and no notice was issued before removing him.

Nagarahole tourists, beware of fake website

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Madikeri

TOURISTS looking to book wildlife safaris at Nagarahole Tiger Reserve online have been cautioned to check the authenticity of websites before paying for their slots. Many visitors have been duped by fake websites and have lost money to online booking fraud. https://www.nagaraholetigerreserve.com/ is the authorised website where tourists can book wildlife safaris at Nagarahole Tiger Reserve. While a bus safari is priced at Rs 610 per person, jeep safari is priced at Rs 850 per person. An entire jeep can be booked for a group of visitors at Rs 7,500. However, when one searches for Nagarahole booking site online, another fake website pops up. The fake website -- https://www.nagaraholenationalparkonline.in -- has already duped several tourists. When tourists book their slots through this fake website and make online payments, they do not receive any confirmation voucher even as calls to customer care numbers mentioned on the site go unanswered. Officials of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve have filed a complaint with the Kodagu Cyber Crime police against the website. Sources confirmed that a fake website had earlier been reported in January and was taken down. However, another website has now popped up and is suspected to be operated from New Delhi.

Two groups in Bidar college come to blows over religious slogan in a play

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

TENSION prevailed at Guru Nanak Dev Degree College at Mailur on the outskirts of Bidar city on Wednesday after the students from two communities clashed with each other.

Bidar Deputy Commissioner Govind Reddy told TNIE that the Guru Nanak Dev Degree College was planning to organise a youth festival on May 31 and the students arranged a 'practice session' on Wednesday.

When they were practicing for a play, two of the actors raised the slogan 'Jai Sri Ram' which was part of the play. This was objected by the students of another community and two of them attacked the students who had raised the slogan. Meanwhile, the students of both the communities started quarrelling on the campus, which led to manhandling and fisticuffs between them.

The police immediately rushed to the spot and separated the two groups. The situation is fully under control and there was no need of imposing prohibitory orders.

Police security has been tightened in and around the college, the DC said.

He also said that college management has cancelled the youth festival. Sources said students who raised 'Jai Sri Ram' slogans were taken to the hospital. They underwent a check-up after the registeration of a medico-legal case. They have not suffered any internal injuries.

PROACTIVE STEPS NEEDED TO GET MORE WOMEN INTO SALARIED JOBS

A crucial way of breaking free from patriarchal chains and boosting growth across the economy—more women with independent, regular sources of income—often goes under-served. In this context, recent data from the government's Periodic Labour Force Survey should set off alarm bells. During January-March 2024, the share of urban women in regular salaried jobs hit a fresh low at 52.3 percent, down from 53 percent in the October-December 2023 quarter. This is the lowest share of women in wage employment in any quarter of the past six years. When compared to the peak of women's regular wage employment, at 61.2 percent in the first quarter of 2020-21, this is a major regression.

In the same January-March quarter this year, the share of women engaged in self-employment went up to 41.3 percent from 40.3 percent in the previous quarter. Self-employment, especially for rural women, is a euphemism for unpaid household work or in small family businesses. It is seen as inferior employment to salaried work that assures regular incomes—a stepping stone to an independent life. The National Statistical Office's data also shows that, while the labour force participation rate among urban women had gone up to a new high of 25.6 percent in the first quarter of the calendar year, it is still quite low in absolute terms and lower than the rural number.

Lest we think gender disparity in employment is a problem at the bottom of the pyramid, it must be pointed out that women in the upper echelons too do not fare better. After the amendment to the Companies Act in 2013, it has been mandatory to appoint at least one woman director on the boards of companies with an annual turnover of ₹100 crore or more. Though the legal nudge has increased women's representation, by 2022 only 18 percent of the Nifty500 companies' board members were women. To speed up women's employment, proactive administrative steps are needed. The impact, for example, of the recruitment of a larger number of women by state governments in their police forces has been positive. In the long term, it is a fight to change patriarchal attitudes; but in the short term, data shows the change is too slow for comfort.

GIVE WOMEN DUE SPACE IN MALAYALAM CINEMA

THE Malayalam film industry is having a dream run these days—both critically and commercially. They are topping the charts in cinemas and on OTT platforms despite being the smallest player in the South Indian film industry. But if somebody watching the recent Malayalam hits thinks that Malayali women are almost non-existent in Kerala society, then s/he cannot be blamed. For, women have become invisible in Malayalam cinema. On the list of recent releases, most films have no major women characters in them, let alone in lead roles. Whether it was Aavesham, Manjummel Boys or Bramayugam—the three top grossers of the year—none has a women character with screen-time stretching beyond a few minutes.

This absence of female actors was flagged by director Anjali Menon when she asked, "Where are the women in Malayalam cinema?" While her question was heavily trolled by portraying women in the film industry as cry-babies, it provoked some serious discussion too. Ironically, around the same time, two women actors from Kerala were hogging the limelight at the Cannes Film Festival. Kani Kusruti and Divya Prabha, who played the lead roles in Payal Kapadia's All We Imagine As Light, were the cynosure of all eyes along with Kapadia. It was as if the duo was answering the question posed by Anjali Menon. Their much-talked-about presence at Cannes only reinforced the fact that there is no dearth of talent among female actors—but only that script writers and directors should have an inclination to give them due space.

The absence of women in Malayalam cinema does not mean there is a deliberate attempt to make women disappear from the screens. But with many films without women becoming huge hits, it is seen as natural that filmmakers would start thinking female actors were dispensable. And that is a worrying trend. While it is not creatively prudent to reserve roles for women in every film being made, it is also not a good sign that more and more films are becoming hits with no women in them. It is appreciable that people are noticing the 'invisibilisation' of women, as such discussions are crucial in addressing gender disparity. Cinema should never be a 'boys' club' and it is the responsibility of everyone who loves cinema—from the writer to the viewer—to ensure that.

QUICK TAKE

NO SMALL POTATO

THE UN observes May 30 as the international day of potato. It's as good a time as any to look at the humble spud's demand-supply imbalance that is affecting household food budgets across India this year. Potatoes usually hit the market in July-August, but demand for the root vegetable has peaked earlier this summer. As a result, wholesale prices have surged by a quarter between April 1 and May 23. Traders have cautioned that crop failures in some parts mean that the supply is unlikely to ease before Diwali. Building more extensive cold storage chains can cushion households from future price shocks—in potatoes as well as other vegetables.

WHY INDIA NEEDS A TRUTH COMMISSION

KALEESWARAM RAJ

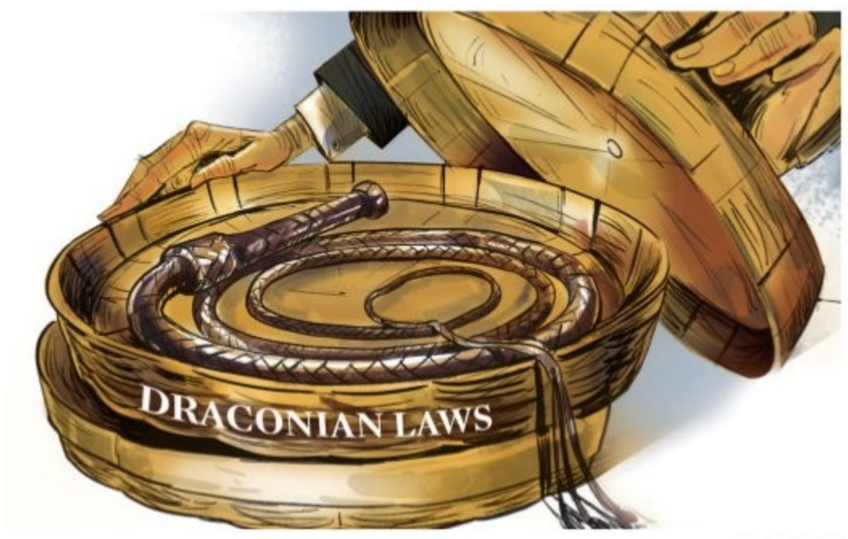
Lawyer, Supreme Court of India

A constitutional court attains significance on account of its counter-majoritarian role in a democracy. Judicial review is a process against legislative mischiefs and executive onslaught. When personal liberty is in peril, the trial court also exercises a constitutional function. Article 21 of the Constitution protects liberty of every person, which should not be deprived of "except according to procedure established by law". Article 22 grants "protection against arrest and detention in certain cases". The constitutional text, which on the face of it is impressive, requires a conscious effort from the judiciary to materialise. Unfortunately, this is an area where Indian courts have often failed. During the last decade, the country had to pay a heavy cost for this failure, in terms of democracy and freedom.

Yet, a series of consolatory orders issued recently by the Supreme Court are significant. By way of an extraordinary order, the court granted interim bail to the Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal. In another case, it invalidated the arrest of journalist Prabir Purkayastha and directed his release. In yet another development, the court ordered the release of Gautam Navlakha, a great intellectual of our times, an accused in the Bhima Koregaon case. Again, a bench headed by Justice Abhay Oka made an important declaration that the Enforcement Directorate cannot arrest an accused once the special court has taken cognisance of the complaint of money laundering.

In some of these cases, the court was correcting lower courts while in others, it was correcting itself. The interim bail in Kejriwal's case raises many questions on its reasoning, precedential validity, and impact on the cases of Manish Sisodia, Hemant Soren, etc., who faced a similar predicament. The Criminal Procedure Code does not contemplate the idea of interim bail. But the power of the Supreme Court to grant an interim bail could be justified by Article 142 of the Constitution, according to which the court can, in the facts and circumstances of a given case, pass any order to provide "complete justice". Yet, in Kejriwal's case, with a direction to get back to the prison in a foisted case, justice rendered was clearly incomplete.

Kejriwal's plea was not for interim bail or even regular bail. He complained that the very arrest was illegal. The basic contention was the arrest was in breach of Section 19 of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA). The arrest based on a statement was made under dubious circumstances and therefore was invalid, he contended. Even the singular statement where Kejriwal was named was not corroborated. The long delay between the incriminating statement and the arrest was also highlighted by Kejriwal's counsel. The approver's statement should not be the basis for arrest, it was argued. With such a strong case against the arrest, it would have been more plausible for the court to stay the order of arrest and remand of the chief minister or invalidate such acts, which would have freed him without a deadline, as now happened. However, even the present order may provide him some respite.



MANOAR PARDIKAR

In Gautam Navlakha's case, however, the court was correcting itself by vacating the stay on the bail that the Bombay High Court granted. The court noted that the trial might take several years to conclude and detaining him till then would be unfair. Let it not be forgotten that there are reports that try to establish that the significant part of the "evidence" in the Bhima Koregaon case was implanted into the computer devices to book the accused.

Now that Navlakha has come out of prison, his notes reflect the realities, attitudes and apathies of the regime. His release is a solace for himself and those who believe in the universality of human rights and the intrinsic value of freedom. Yet with the same belief, one looks at the fate of a few other accused in the same case who are still in prison, who could not be rescued by the court. With the same belief, one remembers the death of Stan Swamy, whose martyrdom while in judicial custody smashed all the tall talk about India's democracy. Also, one looks at the long period of incarceration of the accused now released.

In Prabir Purkayastha vs State, the release of the journalist was done based on a realistic application of Article 22 of the Constitution. The judgement said the accused must be provided with the written grounds of arrest as per Section 19(1) of the PMLA. The court said Section 43B of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA) is in pari materia with Section 19 of the PMLA. In an earlier judgement in Pankaj Bansal vs Union of India (2023), the court held that the grounds of arrest under PMLA was to be given in writing to the accused. The same principle should be applied in UAPA cases as well, said the court for Prabir Purkayastha. The court relied on the classic judgement in Harikisan vs State of Maharashtra (1962) to say that the accused is entitled to know on what grounds he is arrested. In Purkayastha, the court found the due process of law was sabotaged by clandestine methods as it was only after the remand that the grounds for the arrest were communicated. It was clearly a case of misuse of law and abuse of process.

In all these cases, the respective accused have undergone a long period of incarceration that apparently was not legally or legitimately due to them. The bigger tragedy is that even these accused form only a minuscule portion of those who were arrested and detained under various provisions of law during the last decade. Many of them remain in oblivion.

About 76 percent of prisoners in India are undertrials, out of which a good part may be considered 'political prisoners'. They were often the victims of draconian laws like the UAPA and PMLA. Many of the arrests and detentions would call for immediate judicial interventions, which again, the Supreme Court can do under Article 142 of the Constitution. Also, we need a mechanism to probe into the political design behind such entrapments and compensate the victims of an illiberal dispensation, for which a Truth Commission should be formed. It should be the first task that a democratic government should undertake after June 4.

THE CURIOUS CASE OF FEWER VOTERS IN A QUARTER OF SEATS

PRAVEEN CHAKRAVARTY

Chairman, All India Professionals' Congress and Data Analytics team of the Congress

IN just over a quarter of all the constituencies covered till Phase 6 of the ongoing Lok Sabha elections, fewer people came out to vote compared to the 2019 election. This has never happened before in India's electoral history, since in a young and growing country the total population and the number of 18-year-olds who are eligible to vote only increase every year. So it is very rare to find a decline in the absolute number of voters between two five-year election cycles.

In Phase 6, where 58 constituencies finished polling, 17 of them, or 29 percent, saw a decline in voters vis-a-vis 2019, further confirming a trend spotted earlier.

Polling has now been completed in 485 constituencies across six phases. Some 575 million Indians have cast their votes in these constituencies, compared to 551 million in 2019, 495 million in 2014 and 371 million in 2009. Clearly, there has been an increase in the total number of people who came out to vote in these constituencies. This is what is expected in a growing country like India.

But these aggregates hide a surprising trend in 2024—124 of these 485 constituencies experienced a decline in the total number of voters from 2019. To put this in context, none of these constituencies saw a decline in voters in 2014 from 2009, and only 24 did in 2019 from 2014.

Most of these 124 constituencies that saw a decline are in eight states—Uttar Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Rajasthan, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Gujarat and Haryana.

As a share of the total seats in a state, 80 percent of the constituencies in Haryana, 70 percent in Kerala, nearly 60 percent in Rajasthan, and 50 percent in Tamil Nadu saw a decline in voters in 2024. There wasn't a single constituency in these states that experienced a similar decline in either 2019 or 2014.

There is no discernible political pattern in these 124 constituencies, at least ostensibly. Fifty of them were won by non-NDA parties in 2019; 26 are reserved for SC/ST.

What explains the trend?

Half the seats in Phase 1 and 42 percent in Phase 2 witnessed a reduction. So it is more a reflection of the states that mostly polled in these phases—Tamil Nadu and Kerala. In Phase 3, 16 percent of seats saw a decline, but just 3 percent in Phases 4 and 5 experienced this trend. In Phase 6, 29 percent of seats saw a decline. So there is no consistent pattern across phases and it is more a reflection of the states and seats that went to polls. Voter apathy is not an adequate explanation.

Covid deaths cannot be an explanation, too, because this pattern is not observed uniformly across states. Karnataka, Chattisgarh, Telangana, Assam and Jharkhand do not have any constituencies where the total number of voters has fallen. While the more developed states that would have presumably experienced lower Covid deaths, such as Kerala and Tamil Nadu, have seen more than half their constituencies with fewer voters.

DECLINE IN VOTERS IN 2024 vs 2019

PHASE	SEATS	SHARE OF PHASE SEATS
1	50	50%
2	37	42%
3	15	16%
4	1	1%
5	4	8%
6	17	29%

In a first, the total number of voters has fallen in 124 of the 485 constituencies that have voted in the first six phases of the Lok Sabha elections. It's difficult to explain this with the heatwave or Covid deaths. So what is the reason behind the intriguing oddity?

The heat wave cannot be an explanation either, since there is no consistent correlation between higher temperatures and these 124 constituencies.

How is it, then, that a quarter of seats saw fewer voters, but the overall turnout percentage in 2024 is the same as in 2014 and only slightly lower than 2019? The turnout in 2024 is 66 percent after six phases—the same as in 2014 and slightly lower than 2019's 68 percent. But in the 124 seats where voter numbers fell this time, the turnout was 62 percent in 2024, against 66 percent in 2014 and 68 percent in 2019. So there was significant difference in turnout percentages in these seats compared to previous elections.

In the remaining 361 constituencies where there was no voter decline, the turnout in 2024 was 67 percent in 2024 vs 68 percent in 2019 and 66 percent in 2014. So it is not even the case that the turnout was much higher in the other three-fourths of constituencies to make up for the big fall in the quarter.

It is evident that there is something intriguing and surprising in voter turnout. What adds to the intrigue are ground reports showing videos of deliberate voter suppression in parts of UP.

Further, in Tamil Nadu, it is generally observed that the BJP or its ally is in a close contest in two out of the 39 constituencies— Coimbatore and Vellore. Intriguingly, it is exactly these two seats that saw the highest increase of 9 percent in total voters, when in most of the other 37 constituencies there was a decline. Similarly in Thrissur, which is perhaps the only constituency in Kerala where the BJP is expected to be in contest, there was a 4 percent increase in voters, while in most other constituencies there was a reduction. How is it that a few constituencies saw a big increase in voters when a majority of the others in the state saw a decline?

To be clear, this is not an insinuation or an allegation. But it is amply evident from the Election Commission's own data that this requires further investigation and explanation. Ideally, the EC should investigate if there were any suspicious voter rolls or booth management activities that may have led to either voter suppression or bogus addition. This is of paramount importance to retain and regain fast-eroding trust in the integrity of India's democratic process.

Partyless polls?

It may be time we try to bring in partyless democratic elections. This is not a new idea. It was well discussed by social activist Jayaprakash Narayanan. The former King of Nepal, Mahendra, had banned all political parties in his country in 1961.

To ensure more women participate in the workforce, employers need to ensure there are adequate facilities like toilets, adjustable work timings at least for a period of one year for young mothers, day-care facilities, etc. India has high potential for development and the policies should focus more on women.

Courageous voters

In comparison to the poor voting percentage in other parts of our country, especially in cities, the exemplary courage shown by the people of Jammu and Kashmir through voting in large numbers in the midst of threat from terrorists and divisive forces deserves accolades. SP allowed mining, harassed tribals of Sonbhadra: Shah

BJP government has provided water supply to the tribal farmlands through the Kanhar scheme, which the SP government stalled for years
Amit Shah

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

HOME Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday accused the Samajwadi Party (SP) of harassing the tribals of Sonbhadra in its rule by allowing illegal mining in their settlement areas.

Addressing four poll rallies in Robertsganj, the district headquarters of Sonbhadra, the tribal district of eastern UP, and also in Deorai, Ballia and Maharajganj, Shah concluded the day with a roadshow in Ghazipur, the bastion of Ansari brothers.

Claiming that the SP government had ordered firing on tribals for opposing a cement factory in Sonbhadra, Shah said the BJP empowered them with a slew of benefits like share in District Mineral Fund generated from mining.

"BJP government has provided water supply to the tribal farmlands through the Kanhar scheme, which the SP government stalled for years," said the minister.

"This entire area is at the border of Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh. It was affected by Naxalism which the Modi government ended. Six-seven years ago, it was very difficult to get drinking water in Mirzapur and Sonbhadra... In three years, the BJP is going to complete the work of providing tap water to the houses," Shah said.

He said that the ensuing election presented a choice between those who constructed the Ram temple and those who opened fire at Ram devotees.

Shah alleged that the mafia used to get state patronage during the regime of SP chief Akhilesh Yadav.

"When the BJP came to power, Yogi Adityanath was made chief minister and he fixed the mafias," Shah said.

At a poll meeting in Deoria in support of Shashank Mani Tripathi, Shah accused the opposition of stalling the construction of the Ram Mandir for over 70 years saying the temple could only be built because of PM Modi.

During his Maharajganj rally also, Shah claimed that the NDA had already crossed 310-mark in the first five phases. "Rahul Baba is not going to cross the 40-mark and the other Shehzaada, Akhilesh Yadav will not cross the mark of 4," said Shah.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the Congress won 52 seats while the SP bagged just five.

Rahul promises farm loan waiver if INDIA voted to power

Modi govt has finished small traders with demonetisation and GST, just to benefit Adani ji and Ambani ji. The situation is such that the youth are not getting jobs
Rahul Gandhi

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FORMER Congress chief Rahul Gandhi has alleged that the BJP would scrap the Constitution if it came to power. He said if voted to power, INDIA bloc would waive farmers' debt and give a legal guarantee on the Minimum Support Price (MSP), and scrap Agnipath scheme.

Addressing an election rally at Mullanpur Dakha in Ludhiana in favour of party's Ludhiana candidate and Punjab Congress chief Amarinder Singh Raja Warring, Rahul said the 2024 Lok Sabha polls are for saving the Constitution. "For the first time, a party and its leaders have said that they will change and scrap the Constitution if they win the election," he said, targeting the BJP. Holding a copy of the Constitution, he said it was not a book, but the voice of the people.

He accused the saffron party of not giving a legal guarantee on the MSP. He attacked the PM for attempting to "divide the country", saying that in 10 years, the only work that Modi and BJP did was to "make one brother fight the other, one community hate the other and to put one language against the other."

He promised to bring a farmer-friendly crop insurance scheme, alleging that the present scheme benefited only 16 insurance companies. He also spoke about his party's poll promises, including the Mahalakshmi scheme.

Rahul Gandhi pays tribute to late Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala in Ludhiana | PTI

Slamming the BJP for the Agnipath scheme for defence recruitment, he said if the INDIA bloc came to power, it would scrap it and "throw it into the dustbin."

"They want to make two types of martyrs: One will get pension and the martyr status while an Agniveer, who has been turned into a labourer, will get six-month training and after martyrdom, no pension, compensation and martyr status," he said.

"It is an insult to the Army," he said.

Rahul did not speak a word about AAP national convenor Arvind Kejriwal and and Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann. Congress and AAP are partners in the national-level INDIA bloc but in Punjab, they are contesting against each other.

After Ludhiana rally Rahul visited Ramgarh Sadara village near Khanna to meet the family members of the deceased Ajay Kumar, an Agniveer, who died recently.

No justification for Army chief's term extension, comment experts

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE one-month extension given to Chief of Army Staff Manoj Pande has received sharp criticism from many, including Army veterans and civil society representatives.

Major General (Retd) MC Nanjappa said, "This is not called for, simply because there is no national emergency. It appears there is no justification for this extension. It gives the impression that they are superseding someone. I can say this decision is not in the interest of armed forces." A retired high court judge said, "The timing is suspicious. I guess it is to safeguard their interests."

Admiral (Retd) Vishnu Bhagwat said, "Extraordinary decision, perhaps to take care of an extraordinary situation in the making." A senior defence officer who had served in the highest echelons of defence services, requesting anonymity, said, "This is pure manipulation to suit their requirements. Remember the late General Bipin Rawat superseded two generals when he was elevated. They did not appoint a CDS for some time and later they made Anil Chauhan CDS by bringing him after retirement and making adjustments and appointing him to the National Security Council. Technically, these appointments of Army Generals are made 2-3 months in advance. But this has come during the polls."

Chief Secretary (Retd) Hillary Pais said, "It is a welcome move by the government. When the new government is sworn in after the results are announced, it is best that they appoint the new General rather than go with a General appointed now." Senior IAS officer (Retd) MG Devasahayam said, "I appeal to the general that he should not take up this offer. I served in the Army before I got into the IAS . It is humiliating for the Army Chief to be given just a one-month extension. This short-term extension is strange. Have they reduced the army chief's rank to the rank of an office superintendent? What is the emergency to do this? This has not been heard of in many decades. There is bound to be a lot of resentment within the force."

ADR Trustee Prof Trilochan Shastri said, "The government has to explain why they have chosen to give this extension at this time."

PM plan to meditate in TN violates poll code, says Cong

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday approached the Election Commission of India (EC), saying that Prime Minister Narendra Modi's plan to meditate in Kanyakumari is in violation of the Model Code Conduct. The seventh and last phase of Lok Sabha polls is scheduled on June 1.

A Congress delegation, including party leaders Abhishek Manu Singhvi, Randeep Singh Surjewala and Dr Naseer Hussain submitted a list of complaints to the EC regarding various violations of the model code by the ruling BJP.

In its memorandum, the Congress said that Modi's proposed meditation trip violates the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) and provisions under the Representation of Peoples Act-1951. Modi is set to hold a three-day meditation on May 30 at the Vivekananda Rock Memorial in Tamil Nadu's Kanyakumari.

"On May 28, several news agencies reported on a trip that PM Narendra Modi would be taking to Kanyakumari, where he would meditate at the Dhyana Mandapam, starting on May 30," the memorandum said.

The said trip would be widely televised during the 48-hour silence period in Varanasi, the constituency from which Modi is contesting, it said.

"Through the meditation trip, Narendra Modi is attempting to circumvent the 48-hour silence period and unfairly leverage the ethno-cultural significance of the chosen location in an attempt to bolster his campaign and maximise his vote share — in violation of the Representation of Peoples Act, as well as the MCC and the orders with respect to dos and don'ts during the election period that political parties and their candidates are required to adhere to," it pointed out.

Speaking to the media after its meeting with the EC, Singhvi said that it is a gimmick by the BJP to keep the party in the headlines. "We told the EC that during the silence period, no one should be allowed to campaign, directly or indirectly. We have no objection to whatever any leader may do, whether they keep a 'Maun Vrat' or anything. But it should not be an indirect campaign during the silence period. We complained to the EC that Modi has announced that he will sit on 'Maun Vrat' from the evening of May 30. The silence period would begin from 7 'o'clock on May 30 and last till June 1. This is an MCC violation," he said.

The Congress leaders further urged the EC to prohibit the print and audio-visual media from telecasting the meditation.

Indirect campaign

The Congress memorandum to EC said that through the meditation trip, the PM is attempting to circumvent the 48-hour silence period and unfairly leverage the ethno-cultural significance of the chosen location in an attempt to bolster his campaign and maximise his vote share — in violation of the Representation of Peoples Act and the MCC.

Citizenship certificates given in Bengal, Haryana and Uttarakhand: MHA

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on Wednesday said that the government has begun the process of granting Indian citizenship certificates under the Citizenship (Amendment) Act (CAA) in West Bengal.

"The first set of applications by the eligible people from the state was today granted citizenship by the empowered committee designated for West Bengal," the MHA said in a statement.

It further noted that like West Bengal, the committees of Haryana and Uttarakhand have "also granted citizenship today to the first set of applicants in their respective states under CAA".

The first set of citizenship certificates after the notification of Citizenship (Amendment) Rules, 2024, granted by the empowered committee of Delhi, were handed over to applicants in New Delhi by the Union home secretary on May 15.

With the framing of the rules under CAA, the issue of granting citizenship to eligible people became a poll issue in West Bengal, as Chief Minister and TMC leader Mamata Banerjee said that she would not allow it to be implemented in the state.

However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, while addressing public rallies in West Bengal countered saying he guaranteed to the people that nobody can stop the implementation of the CAA in the state.

The Government of India had notified the Citizenship (Amendment) Rules, 2024 on March 11. The rules envisage the manner of application form, procedure for processing applications by the district level committee and scrutiny and grant of citizenship by state level empowered committee. The processing of applications is done completely through the online portal.

The CAA was enacted in December 2019 for granting Indian nationality to persecuted Hindu, Sikh, Jain, Buddhist, Parsi and Christian migrants from Bangladesh, Pakistan and Afghanistan who came to India on or before December 31, 2014. The CAA rules were issued on March 11.

Apathy: Pond water for villagers & cattle in J'khand

MUKESH RANJAN @ Dumka

MORE than 10,000 people of Benagadhia and a few nearby villages under Chitragadhia panchayat in Jharkhand's Dumka district have been drinking water from a pond. Being the only water source available in the area, village cattle and dogs also take a dip in it to get respite from heat.

According to villagers, the water table in the area is very low due to which they cannot afford to get deep bore wells dug up on their own.

They say no politician has talked about their problems though Lok Sabha polls will be over on June 1.

Though the panchayat has fixed a fine of ₹10,000 for using the pond after defecation, outsiders often use it for the same as there is no other water body located in the area.

The panchayat head says many villagers make the pond dirty by throwing garbage into it.

"According to our forefathers, villagers have been using this pond for drinking water and other day-to-day purposes even before independence. More than 10,000 people living in three tolas – Benagadhia, Kowamahal and Chitragadhia — have been using water in this pond," said Somlal Hembrom, Chtragadhia panchayat chief.

"The same water is also used for preparing the mid-day meal at Chitragadhia Middle School," Hembrom said, adding that none of the governments, even after the formation of Jharkhand, paid heed to the villagers' requests for safe drinking water.

Dilip Kumar Jaiswal of Kowamahal said, "The British were better than our government as the pond dug by them several decades ago is still catering to the needs of over 10,000 villagers. The pond is also known as Saheb Pokhra due to its connection with the British regime."

Jaiswal added that due to scarcity of water in the region, people are not ready to give their daughters in marriage to youths in the village.

"My brother Rohit Jaiswal, who is a para-teacher, has crossed 40 years but we are not able to find a match for him as people are reluctant to give their daughters in marriage to men in our village due to scarcity of water," he said.

Women also complained that they have to walk for nearly a kilometre to fetch water for drinking or other household purposes.

"I was married to this village some 40 years back and have been fetching water daily for drinking and other household purposes. Had the government paid heed to our problems, they must have made some alternative arrangements for us," said Najma Biwi of Kowa Mahal.

Block Development Officer (BDO) Ejaz Alam said, "I am not aware of this problem as I have been transferred here recently. As you have put this into my notice, I will definitely take appropriate action in this regard."

SC turns down woman's plea to abort pregnancy of more than 25 weeks

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court has, in a recent order, dismissed a plea filed by a woman seeking a direction to terminate her more than 25-week pregnancy. However, the court refrained from making the reasons for its decision public, in a bid to protect her privacy.

A two-judge vacation bench of the top court, comprising Justice Abhay S Oka and Justice Satish Chandra Sharma, perused the report submitted by the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) on May 24, and refused to allow the woman's plea. "We are not quoting what is mentioned in the report (of the AIIMS) to protect the privacy of the petitioner," the court said.

Taking into record the medical report, the court said, "We could not permit termination of pregnancy based on the facts of the case. The report shall remain on record in a sealed envelope. The petition is rejected."

The woman's plea claimed that she came to know about her pregnancy only on May 17. Her lawyer pleaded the court to give her a direction to terminate her pregnancy on the ground that she came from Dubai and was currently staying in a hotel in the capital. "She is not that financially strong," the advocate pleaded, but the court granted no relief.

Earlier, on the last date of hearing, the court had asked the AIIMS to submit a report by May 24 regarding the "physical health of the petitioner as well as of the foetus and its impact on the former's unwanted pregnancy".

In India, the Medical Termination of Pregnancy Act allows aborting a foetus of more than 24 weeks old only in cases of substantial foetal abnormality as diagnosed and recommended by a medical board of experts or if an opinion is formed in good faith to save the life of the pregnant woman.

AAP MLA's interim bail plea rejected

The Supreme Court on Wednesday refused to grant interim bail to Punjab AAP MLA Jaswant Singh Gajjan Majra, who was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate in connection with its probe into alleged money-laundering linked to a bank fraud case. Earlier, the Punjab and Haryana High Court had dismissed Majra's plea challenging his arrest, observing that there was no illegality in his arrest in the case. He then moved the top court, challenging the High Court order and seeking interim release from prison to campaign for the ongoing Lok Sabha elections.

Yogi factor in 13 Purvanchal seats

CM's pro-development, anti-mafia image coupled with Hindutva resonates with people

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Lok Sabha election, deeply embedded in Purvanchal, is reaching its climax. The stage for the final battle is set in Varanasi, PM Modi's constituency, Gorakhpur, the stronghold of Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath, and Ghazipur, the bastion of the infamous Ansari brothers. This phase is also a test of the political clout of smaller stakeholders like Anupriya Patel of Apna Dal (S), OP Rajbhar of SBSP, and Sanjay Nishad of NISAHD, and their credibility as saffron allies.

With 13 seats up for grabs in phase 7, voting will take place on June 1. While PM Narendra Modi, considered one of the towering leaders in India, is the face of the BJP in campaigns, the Yogi Adityanath phenomenon, especially his pro-development, anti-mafia image coupled with his unapologetic approach to Hindutva, is resonating on the ground in the eastern front.

PM Modi, who had been making subtle references to UP CM's governance in earlier rallies, started praising him openly as the poll scene shifted to Purvanchal. He has been highlighting Yogi's 'bulldozer' action against gangsters and dreaded mafias, bringing much-needed relief to the people from their reign of terror and intimidation.. Modi does not forget to applaud Yogi's efforts to curb corrupt and criminal elements while underscoring the development works and the effective implementation of central welfare schemes since Yogi Adityanath assumed the UP CM office. Even the Home Minister praises Yogi at his election rallies, mentioning his good governance. Significantly, similar sentiments are echoed by people on the ground.

However, despite relentless efforts by the opposition, especially AAP chief Arvind Kejriwal, to derail the saffron brigade's campaign by creating doubt in voters' minds over an alleged plan by the BJP's top brass to replace Yogi as UP CM two months after the June 4 results, this Mahant of Gorakshnath Peeth has emerged as a significant benefactor for his party and an unignorable force, having stormed some impregnable rival citadels in successive polls. He has proved it time and again, standing out as the only UP CM to have repeated a term in the last 35 years in Lucknow.

Yogi Adityanath does not mince words when he assails the opposition for trying to drive a wedge in the BJP by spreading canards and false propaganda about his removal.

Dispelling doubt, he unhesitatingly claims that being a Yogi, detached from power, his only priority is to work for the values and ideologies of the party he is associated with, in favour of the nation.

"The opposition is devoid of issues. They have always been into such negative and divisive politics. Otherwise, I am a Yogi, and my priority is not to gain power but to work for the values and ideologies of the party for which we chose politics and public life. Kejriwalji, you have departed from your ideals for the sake of power. But I will reject power for the sake of my ideals not only in this birth but even in 100 such births. I will continue to work for my party's ideology of 'Nation First' with dedication," he asserts when his reaction is sought over the issue.

According to political observers, even though the Delhi CM has tried to create a narrative that all is not well within the BJP and that the top brass will not tolerate Yogi because of his growing popularity, his indispensability lies in his style of governance, his spotless integrity, and an image of being a nemesis to mafia and criminals.

Stage set for 'TMC vs TMC' close fight in Kolkata North

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @Kolkata

THE Kolkata North constituency where polls will be held on June 1, is set to witness a tough triangular contest between Sudip Bandyopadhyay (AITC), BJP's Tapas Roy — a defector from Trinamool Congress — and Pradip Bhattacharya (Congress).

Initially dubbed as a Trinamool Congress versus Trinamool Congress contest, the BJP gained ground after Prime Minister Narendra Modi organised a road show on May 28.

The next day Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee took out a padyatra from Shyambazar to Vivekananda road, the same route as that of Modi.

Sources in the TMC said that after the footmarch, Banerjee met Bandyopadhyay and Kunal Ghosh separately at their residences. Bandyopadhyay, a five-term MP and the AITC's leader in the Lok Sabha, is set to increase his victory margin this time. He said there is no need to clarify his position in his locality as people see him round the year. "I don't work before polls. I work the entire year. So I am confident that this year my vote share will increase from Kolkata North. People in the area can give my feedback better than me," added a confident Bandyopadhyay.

Given its urban character and predominantly urban voters, the AITC has maintained control over this seat. Before Roy left the AITC, his bitter relationship with Bandyopadhyay had come to the fore. The latter, however, enjoyed the confidence of Trinamool chief Mamata Banerjee, a factor that has always stood him in good stead in his political career.

Even as cyclone Remal battered the state, Banerjee campaigned extensively for Bandyopadhyay and held a rally and a roadshow in an inundated city the day after. Roy -- Bandyopadhyay's rival -- is known as a "people's man". A resident of central Kolkata's Bowbazar, the BJP candidate is known to be accessible to people.

When Roy, current MLA and deputy chief whip of Trinamool at the time, resigned from the party, weeks after the ED raided his house ahead of the Lok Sabha election announcement, he claimed that the probe agency was sent by Bandyopadhyay to his house.

The ED had raided his residence in connection with alleged irregularities in civic body recruitments. Roy was first elected as MLA on the Congress ticket in 1996 from the Vidyasagar assembly constituency. He won the 2001 assembly election on an AITC ticket from Burrabazar. In 2011, he moved to Baranagar assembly constituency in North 24 Parganas district and has been an MLA since then.

Ghosh openly favoured Roy even after the latter left the party. Besides, the AITC is also grappling with a feud within the constituency which may give an edge to Roy, say political analysts.

Predominantly urban voters in this seat

Given its urban character and predominantly urban voters, the AITC has maintained control over this seat. Before Roy left the AITC, his bitter relationship with Bandyopadhyay had come to the fore. The latter, however, enjoyed the confidence of CM Mamata Banerjee.

FIR against Mehbooba over poll code violation

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

FORMER Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister and PDP president Mehbooba Mufti has been booked by police for violating the Model Code of Conduct (MCC) by staging a protest along with her workers on the polling day in Anantnag-Rajouri parliamentary constituency on May 25.

The FIR was lodged by police on a complaint filed by Assistant Returning Officer (ARO) Srigufwara Bijbehara. In the complaint, the ARO alleged that on May 25, a huge number of PDP workers led by Mehbooba assembled in Bijbehara town and raised slogans for releasing PDP workers, which amounted to a gross violation of MCC.

"The huge group of PDP workers also blocked the main road and staged a protest at main Bijbehara for over one hour, which amounted to violations of Section 144 CrPC imposed in Anantnag-Rajouri Constituency on order of District Magistrate," the complaint read.

It states that as per Section 144 CrPC, the gathering of four persons is restricted during the MCC upto June 4. "Hence, in violation of the order, it is requested that necessary action be initiated under the rules against Mehbooba Mufti and her workers identified by the police".

After the complaint from ARO, Police Station Bijbehara filed FIR under sections 147 (punishment for rioting), 188 (disobedience to an order duly promulgated by a public servant), 341 (punishment for wrongful restraint) of IPC, and Section 126 of the Representation of People Act under 1950, 1951, and 1989 against Mehbooba. Reacting to filing of FIR, Mehbooba said it is amusing to find an FIR filed against her for apparently flouting MCC.

Deras, NRIs draw the lines on 2 seats in Doaba region

HARPREET BAJWA @Jalandhar

THE Doaba region of Punjab —the Non Resident Indian (NRI) belt of the state—comprises two Lok Sabha constituencies, Jalandhar and Hoshiarpur, and both are reserved. Many small and big deras propagating religious teachings dot the entire region, and the election time offers a big opportunity to the dera heads to acquire political posturing in the company of candidates who visit the deras for a larger appeal to the voters.

The Scheduled Caste community has 39% votes in Jalandhar, which is the biggest chunk of voters.

From Union minister Som Parkash, former CM Charanjit Singh Channi, Ex-Union minister Preneet Kaur and former Union minister Manish Tewari are on a dear-hopping spree.

Recently AAP candidate from Hoshiarpur Raj Kumar Chabbewal met head of Radha Soami Dera in Beas Baba Gurinder Singh Dhillon with his family. Releasing his photos with dera chief, Chabbewal said he has long been a dera follower and has taken the 'Naam Daan' (which is given by the spiritual guru, for daily practice to 'invoke the inner voice').

SAD candidate from Jalandhar Mohinder Singh Kaypee, too, went to the dera to seek the blessings. Kaypee said he considered himself fortunate to have got the opportunity to meet the dera head.

INDIA bloc candidate from the Chandigarh parliamentary constituency Manish Tewari of Congress also visited the dera. Several other candidates have made a beeline to the deras in Jalandhar released photos on social media.

Leaders also visit Dera Sach Khand Ballan which is the epicentre of Ravidassia community. There are around 9,000 deras across the state and some of them are influential enough to swing an election. Most people in the state patronize these deras which are believed to pocket 90% of donations.

The babas heading these deras are good communicators. Their followers, mostly belonging to socially and economically marginal groups, find their counsel easier to grasp than the sermons from gurdwaras.

The deras also form a protective buffer between the administration and the individuals, since local leaders follow them. With politicians visiting these deras, these deras have also come to be recognised as power centres. The deras usually communicate their support indirectly a few days before polling through religious sermons.

The influence of the deras can be gauged from the fact that the current MP Preneet Kaur of BJP from Patiala visited Divya Jyoti Jagriti Sansthan (DJJS) at Nurmahal and Dera Radha Soami Satsang, Beas, and also paid obeisance at the Ram temple and Nazarbag Sahwara in Ayodhya.

The Jalandhar Lok Sabha seat has historically been a Congress bastion, with the party winning the seat 15 times across 20 elections, including three by-elections, since 1952.

However, the voter preference shifted dramatically in the 2023 by-elections, when the Congress' Karamjit Kaur was defeated by Congress MLA-turned- AAP candidate Sushil Rinku. Congress' Charanjit Singh Channi faces Pawan Kumar Tinu of AAP and Sushil Kumar Rinky of BJP and Mohinder Singh Kaypee of SAD.

In Hoshairpur, AAP has fielded Dr Raj Kumar Chabbewal. He faces Anita Som Parkash of BJP, Yamini Gomar of Congress and Sohan Singh Thandal of SAD.

'This time, my victory margin will be more than 4 lakh votes'

FACE OFF

'Myth about Modi wave will be dispelled in this election'

FORMER Union minister and BJP national spokesperson Ravi Shankar Prasad is leaving no stone unturned to ensure his victory for the second term from Patna Sahib Lok Sabha constituency. In an interview with Ramashankar, he said that India needs a prime minister like Narendra Modi at this juncture. Excerpts:

What's your take on Rahul Gandhi's claim on formation of next government by INDIA bloc.
Leave Rahul Gandhi, even RJD chief Lalu Prasad has also been making a tall claim about opposition forming government for more than a decade. It is daydreaming. Just wait for June 4 when results will be declared.

What about Narendra Modi's frequent visits to Bihar? Opposition claims it shows BJP's lack of confidence.
The opposition should not raise such an issue. Whether Modi needs Lalu's visa for coming to Bihar? This time, NDA will win all 40 seats in Bihar.

Are you confident of your victory and what will be your victory margin?
I am very confident and the victory margin will be more than 4 lakh votes. I had defeated Congress candidate Shatrughan Sinha by over 3 lakh votes.

Is Modi's popularity still intact?
Modi's popularity has increased significantly. India needs another term for Modi for the country's all-round development. Modi's model is different and so people love him.

PM Modi says countdown for RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav's jail term will start after Lok Sabha polls. What is your take?
Tejashwi is facing trial in a case. The court has already taken cognisance of the matter and a probe agency has also filed a chargesheet... Do you need more than this?

What about development initiatives in Patna Sahib?
A lot of development work has been completed and many are in the process. For example, the Patna Marine Driveway and the Atal Path have been completed. Work on Patna Metro is under process.

Your future plans?
I will explore all possible opportunities for more investments for more job creation.

> I do not take the name of the opposition candidate. I have not spoken anything against Shatrughan Sinha in 2019
>
> Ravi Shankar Prasad

> In Bihar, the opposition alliance has been contesting elections as a cohesive unit. I am getting support from everybody
>
> Anshul Avijit

CONGRESS candidate Anshul Avijit from Patna Sahib Lok Sabha constituency in Bihar faces an uphill task of wresting the seat from BJP. In an interview with Ramashankar, the son of the first woman Speaker of Lok Sabha Meira Kumar with a PhD from Cambridge says BJP has only created a propaganda that no other party can win from here. Excerpts:

Your party has chosen you to contest from a constituency considered BJP's safest seat. What is your take on this?
BJP is very good at propaganda creating an impression that they are impregnable. I consider it as my privilege that my party has selected me to contest from Patna Sahib. It is wrong to presume that no other party can win an election from here. There is a strong anti-incumbency against BJP MP (Ravi Shankar Prasad) as people of the constituency are disappointed with him. The BJP candidate also faces the charge of being inaccessible to the people whom he claims to represent.

How do you think RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav's job plank will help bolster your electoral prospects?
It will definitely be an advantage for me as youths are attracted to the opposition alliance as they have seen how Tejashwi did not only make a promise but also made sure to fulfil it by giving 5 lakh government jobs in the 17-month rule of the previous grand alliance.

How well prepared is Bihar's grand alliance contesting the elections and what are your hopes?
In Bihar, the opposition alliance is contesting elections as a cohesive unit. I am getting support from everybody, RJD's Tejashwi, CPI(ML)'s Dipankar Bhattacharya... We are confident we will put up a very good show.

How will you react to the dynastic politics charge?
I feel proud my family has such a strong political ground and they served the people of this country and state so well. I draw inspiration from them.

What about the Modi wave?
The myth about this Modi wave will be dispelled in this election. Everybody is fed up with the Modi government, the most incompetent dispensation we do have till now.

Palestine prime minister in Madrid to express gratitude

Spain hosts meeting of the Foreign Ministerial Committee of Arabic and Islamic countries

MADRID

SPANISH Prime Minister Pedro Sánchez met with Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa and leading officials from several Middle Eastern countries in Madrid on Wednesday after Spain, Ireland and Norway recognised a Palestinian state.

The diplomatic move by the three western European nations on Tuesday was slammed by Israel and will have little immediate impact on its grinding war in Gaza, but it was a victory for the Palestinians and could encourage other Western powers to follow suit.

"On behalf of President (Mahmoud) Abbas and the government of Palestine, the people of Palestine, we warmly welcome Spain's recognition of the state of Palestine," Mustafa said afterward. "This recognition strengthens our resolve to continue our struggle for a just and lasting peace."

Mustafa was joined by Saudi Arabian Foreign Minister Prince Faisal bin Farhan, Qatari Prime Minister Sheikh Mohammed bin Abdulrahman Al Thani, Organization of Islamic Cooperation chairman Hussain Ibrahim Taha, and the foreign ministers for Turkey and Jordan, members of the group called the Foreign Ministerial Committee of Arabic and Islamic countries for Gaza.

They also met with Spanish Foreign Minister José Manuel Albares. More than 140 countries recognize a Palestinian state — more than two-thirds of the United Nations.

With Spain and Ireland, there are now nine members of the 27-nation European Union that officially recognize a Palestinian state. Norway is not an EU member but its foreign policy is usually aligned with the bloc.

Slovenia, an EU member, will decide on the recognition of a Palestinian state on Thursday and forward its decision to parliament for final approval.

"We salute Spain, and we salute Norway, Ireland and Slovenia for doing the right thing. We urge other European partners to do the same thing," said Jordanian Foreign Minister Ayman Safadi.

The move to recognise a Palestinian state has caused relations between the EU and Israel to nosedive. Madrid and Dublin are pushing for the EU to take measures against Israel for its continued attacks on southern Gaza's city of Rafah.

The decision by Spain, Ireland and Norway comes more than seven months into an assault waged by Israel following the Oct. 7 Hamas-led attack in which militants stormed across the Gaza border into Israel, killing 1,200 people and taking about 250 hostage. AP

Israeli strikes kill 37, most in tents

DEIR AL-BALAH

ISRAELI shelling and airstrikes killed at least 37 people, most of them sheltering in tents, outside the southern Gaza city of Rafah overnight and on Tuesday — pummeling the same area where strikes triggered a deadly fire days earlier in a camp for displaced Palestinians — according to witnesses, emergency workers and hospital officials.

The tent camp inferno has drawn widespread international outrage, including from some of Israel's closest allies, over the military's expanding offensive into Rafah.

The Israeli military suggested Sunday's blaze in the tent camp may have been caused by secondary explosions, possibly from Palestinian militants' weapons. The results of Israel's initial probe into the fire were issued Tuesday, with military spokesman Rear Adm. Daniel Hagari saying the cause of the fire was still under investigation but that the Israeli munitions used — targeting what the army said was a position with two senior Hamas militants — were too small to be the source. The strike or the subsequent fire could also have ignited fuel, cooking gas canisters or other materials in the camp.

The blaze killed 45 Palestinians, according to Gaza health officials' count. Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said the fire was the result of a "tragic mishap."

Israel's assault on Rafah, launched May 6, spurred more than 1 million people to flee the city, the UN agency helping Palestinian refugees said Tuesday. Most were already displaced multiple times in the nearly eight-month war between Israel and Hamas. Families are now scattered across makeshift tent camps and other war-ravaged areas. The strikes over the past few days have hit areas west of Rafah, where the military had not ordered civilians to evacuate. AP

Three Israeli soldiers have been killed in Rafah when a booby trap exploded, the military and media reported, as the Israeli national security adviser said that the war against Hamas militants would likely last through the end of the year. G-FORCE

SIA flight fell 178 feet leading to injuries, death onboard

KUALA LUMPUR

RAPID changes in the gravitational force led to a 178-feet altitude drop of a Singapore Airlines flight that left one passenger dead and many others who were not buckled up injured in extreme turbulence last week, a preliminary investigation by Singapore's Transport Ministry said.

Singapore's Transport Ministry on Wednesday said investigators, including those from the US National Transportation Safety Board, Federal Aviation Administration and Boeing, had compiled a chronology of events based on the preliminary analysis of the flight's data and cockpit voice recorders. Early findings showed the aircraft was passing over the south of Myanmar at 37,000 feet when it began to experience vibration due to changes in the gravitational force, the ministry said.

The plane then climbed to an altitude of up to 37,362 feet and increased speed possibly due to an updraft, it said. The plane's autopilot then sought to pitch the jet downwards to its earlier altitude. "The aircraft experienced a rapid change in G (gravitational force) ... this likely resulted in the occupants who were not belted up to become airborne" before falling back down later as the plane rose and fell, the ministry said. "The rapid changes in G over the 4.6 second duration resulted in an altitude drop of 178 feet ... this sequence of events likely caused the injuries to the crew and passengers."

During the turbulence, it said a pilot was heard calling out saying the fasten seat belt sign had been switched on. It said recorded data indicated the pilots manually controlled the plane for 21 seconds to stabilise it before reengaging the autopilot.

The plane made a normal, controlled descent and didn't encounter further turbulence until it landed in Bangkok almost an hour later. AP

ASIA MATTERS

DEFAMATION CHARGES AGAINST EX-PM

Prosecutors said on Wednesday that former Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra will be indicted for defaming the monarchy, three months after he was freed on parole on other charges. Thaksin had not yet been indicted because he had filed a request to postpone his original appointment on Wednesday with proof that he has Covid-19, Prayuth Bejraguna, a spokesperson for the Office of the Attorney General, said at a news conference. The attorney general's office scheduled a new appointment for Thaksin's indictment on June 18, Prayuth said. AP

The full report on a helicopter collision involving two Royal Malaysian Navy (TLDM) helicopters in April, killing 10 people, will be released on May 30, according to Communications Minister Fahmi Fadzil, The Straits Times reported. Ten people were killed on April 23 after two helicopters collided in mid-air during a rehearsal for a TLDM parade to celebrate its 90th anniversary. Footage shared online showed several helicopters flying low in a formation. One of the helicopters was seen clipping the rear rotor of another helicopter, causing both to go into a tailspin and crash.

A.G.O. SAYS 1 POLICE PERSONNEL HELD

SP group sells stake in Hyd project to GIC for ₹2,200 cr

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE Shapoorji Pallonji Group has sold its stake in the group's Singapore based joint venture real estate fund (SPREF) held in the TSI Business Parks, Hyderabad, for a reported consideration of ₹2,200 crore.

"We have completed the sale of securities held by SPREF-II in the TSI Business Parks, along with a reputed global institutional investor, to a joint venture of global institutional investors, marking one of the largest transactions in the Indian real estate this fiscal," the SP group said in a statement without revealing deal value or the buyer. It also didn't say about ownership of the fund.

A source in the know of the development told TNIE that the Shapoorji Pallonji Real Estate Fund is co-owned with an arm of the German insurance group Allianz and SP's stake has been picked by the Singaporean wealth fund GIC for Rs 2,200 crore, making it one of the largest real estate deals in the country this fiscal.

SPREF is a joint venture between SP group and Allianz and the fund acquired a controlling stake in TSI Business Parks in December 2019, which owns Waverock, a grade-A IT SEZ located in Gachibowli in Hyderabad with a gross leasable area of 2.4 million sqft. SPIRE is an investment manager since 2013 and provides non-binding investment manager services to SPREF.

Rajesh Agarwal, CEO, Shapoorji Pallonji Investment Advisors, said, "This transaction underlines attractiveness of domestic realty market and highlights our experience to acquire good assets and enhance their value towards providing profitable exits to institutional investor partners."

SPIRE Investment Manager is the investment manager to the fund and Shapoorji Pallonji Investment Advisors is an investment advisor to the fund.

Shapoorji Pallonji Investment Advisors, founded in 2010 as a 100% subsidiary of Shapoorji Pallonji and Company, is the fund manager of SPREF, as a synergistic expansion to the group's existing real estate development and contracting businesses, to leverage its established brand name and expertise, providing it with the ability to establish a unique fully integrated real estate development and investment advisory platform. SP Investment Advisors was established in 2010 as part of the group's synergistic expansion and to leverage the group's experience of over 155 years in real estate development and construction.

RBI bars Edel ARC from carrying out new biz

Regulator says the ARC and group firm ECL Finance were acting in concert for evergreening stressed exposures

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

WITHIN a week of asking the asset reconstruction companies to behave on their business practices, the Reserve Bank India (RBI) on Wednesday barred Edelweiss Asset Reconstruction Company (EARCL) and group company ECL Finance barred from continuing with their business activities.

The RBI took these steps stating that the two companies were acting in concert by entering into a series of structured transactions for evergreening stressed exposures and thereby connected AIFs circumventing applicable regulations.

The terms of the punitive actions are a bit different on both the companies, and come into effect immediately, according to an RBI statement.

While it has directed EARCL "to cease and desist from acquisition of financial assets, including security receipts (SRs) and reorganising existing SRs into senior and subordinate tranches, with immediate effect, the direction to the group firm ECL Finance is "to cease and desist, with immediate effect, from undertaking any structured transactions in respect of its wholesale exposures, other than repayment and/or closure of accounts in its normal course of business." SRs are instruments issued by ARCs as a consideration for their purchase of distressed assets from banks/NBFCs. The spokespersons of the affected companies are yet to respond to the regulatory actions.

The companies have been founded by Rakshesh Shah who also owned the Edelweiss group before being force-sold the Malayasian fund PAG and got renamed as Nuvama a few years back. Incorrect valuation of SRs was also observed in both ECL and EARCL, the regulator said, adding apart from the above, in ECL, supervisory observations included submission of incorrect details of its eligible book debts to its lenders for computation of drawing power, non-compliance with loan to value norms for lending against shares, incorrect reporting to Central Repository for Information on Large Credits system (CRILC) and non-adherence to the KYC guidelines.

On ECL, RBI said the company has been taking over loans from non-lender entities of the group for ultimate sale to the group ARC, allowing itself to be used as a conduit to circumvent regulations which permit ARCs to acquire financial assets only from banks and financial institutions.

The RBI said 'instead of taking meaningful remedial action to rectify the said deficiencies, it was observed that the group entities were resorting to new ways to circumvent regulations. Over the past few months, RBI has been engaging with the senior management of these entities and their statutory auditors, but no corrective action has been evidenced so far, necessitating the imposition of business restrictions."

Paytm, Adani deny reports of stake sale

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PAYTM on Wednesday refuted reports stating that Adani Group chairman Gautam Adani is considering acquiring a stake in parent company One 97 Communications.

"We clarify that the above-mentioned news item is speculative and it is not engaged in discussions in this regard. We have always made and will continue to make disclosures in compliance with our obligations under the SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015," Paytm said in a regulatory filing.

Adani Group also said that they categorically deny this baseless speculation. "It is totally false and untrue," said Spokesperson, Adani Group.

Earlier, a media report stated that Asia's second richest billionaire Gautam Adani is considering buying a stake in the embattled fintech company. The report noted that Paytm founder and CEO Vijay Shekhar Sharma had visited Adani at his office in Ahmedabad to finalise the contours of a deal.

The report comes months after the Reserve Bank of India dealt a big blow to Paytm as it barred Paytm Payments Bank Ltd (PPBL) from onboarding new users and from offering various services owing to severe non-compliance.

Owning to the disruption caused by this, Paytm reported a net loss of ₹550 crore for the quarter ending March (Q4FY24) as against ₹167.5 crore loss reported in the year-ago quarter.

"Our Q4 FY24 results were impacted by temporary disruption on account of UPI transition and permanent disruption because of PPBL embargo," Paytm said in its earnings call. It flagged that while it experienced some financial setbacks in Q4 due to these disruptions, the full impact will be evident in the first quarter of FY25.

S&P revises India's growth outlook to positive, affirms rating at 'BBB'-

MONIKA YADAV @ Mumbai

RATING agency S&P on Wednesday revised India's growth outlook to positive from stable on the back of robust growth, increase in government capex and the Centre's commitment to fiscal consolidation. The agency is optimistic about the country's growth regardless of the election outcome on June 4. It has affirmed the overall rating at 'BBB'-.

"We expect sound economic fundamentals to underpin the growth momentum over the next two to three years. Regardless of the election outcome, we expect broad continuity in economic reforms and fiscal policies," S&P said in its report.

"The positive outlook reflects our view that continued policy stability, deepening economic reforms, and high infrastructure investment will sustain long-term growth prospects," S&P added. The agency further stated that along with cautious fiscal and monetary policy that diminishes the government's elevated debt and interest burden while bolstering economic resilience, could lead to a higher rating over the next 24 months.

May raise ratings further if sees improvement

According to global rating agency S&P Global, it may also raise the ratings if it observes a sustained and substantial improvement in the central bank's monetary policy effectiveness and credibility, such that inflation is managed at a durably lower rate over time.

According to S&P, India's real GDP growth will likely come at 6.8% this year, which compares favorably with emerging economies in the middle of global slowdown.

The agency highlighted elevated fiscal deficits, huge debt stock and interest burden the country is facing. However, it noted the government's efforts of consolidation.

"We therefore revised our outlook on India to positive from stable and affirmed our 'BBB-/A-3' sovereign credit ratings," it added in its report.

Meanwhile, S&P further added that it may also raise the ratings if it observes a sustained and substantial improvement in the central bank's monetary policy effectiveness and credibility, such that inflation is managed at a durably lower rate over time.

In May last year, S&P had given stable outlook with 'BBB'-outlook to India. It had also flagged concerns with regard to its weak fiscal performance and low GDP per capita.

Vaishali beats Humpy to go in to sole lead

India's R Vaishali came up with a stupendous effort to beat compatriot Koneru Humpy and jump into sole lead in the women's section of the Norway chess tournament. Praggnanandhaa had a tough day in office as he eventually lost to reigning World champion Ding Liren of China in the tiebreaker.

With the United States set to co-host the T20 World Cup, Gomesh S takes a look at how far the sport has come in the country, what lies ahead and more...

AMERICAN EXPEDITION

ON Saturday night, just as India was getting in the mood for the IPL final between Kolkata Knight Riders and Sunrisers Hyderabad, halfway across the world, something peculiar was happening at the Prairie View Cricket Complex in Houston. It was the third T20I between the United States of America and Bangladesh. And Mustafizur Rahman decided to do his magic. He took 6/10, ensuring that the visitors did not face a clean sweep. Now, what was peculiar about the match and the six wickets? Each of Rahman's six wickets were of batters who were born in different countries. A former Pakistan U-19 player, a former Canadian, a former Black Caps international, a domestic cricketer from South Africa, one USA-born Punjabi and an Indian-born American.

In many ways, it was testament to the 'nation of immigrants' image the country has and the dream it offers. It's also a perfect example as to how cricket stands as a sport in the United States. "I think if you see in the last four years, a lot of players have qualified to play for the US," Harmeet Singh, who did not feature in the third T20I but had a crucial role in the series win, tells this daily. "There are guys from South Africa, New Zealand, West Indies, India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka... a lot of guys have made their move and there were guys already from these countries from before. So, the USA being the land of immigrants, it's very welcoming. On top of that, guys who are already in the team before us are also highly motivated to perform better because of the competition," he adds.

Born in Mumbai, Harmeet featured in two U-19 World Cups for India, including in the title-winning 2012 side. However, over the next seven years, things didn't go his way. When the opportunity came knocking to play in the Major League Cricket (domestic tournament in the USA), he took it with both hands. For him, it was a chance to chase his dream of playing at the highest level. Not just Harmeet; behind almost every USA cricketer, there is a similar story. Cricket, by and large, is a minority sport in comparison Baseball, Football (the American version) and basketball. Understandably, it is the subcontinental immigrants who are in the majority cricket-playing population in the country. However, when you are chasing a dream in a land that is not familiar to you, it is not easy. Even more so for an associate nation; most of the country is not familiar with the sport. The US, despite featuring in the first ever international match 220 years ago (1844) against Canada, have barely played any international cricket against the top teams in the past century. Once the Imperial Cricket Conference was renamed as International Cricket Council in 1965, USA were inducted as an associate nation. Since 1979, they have featured in qualifying tournaments (did not feature in two editions). They even made it to the Champions Trophy in 2004. Yet, their growth stagnated for various reasons including the fact that cricket was not warming up enough to become a global sport. It was only after the advent of T20, things started to change rapidly. Six years after ICC gave international status to all T20s between nations, the biggest international event in the format — T20 World Cup — is coming to the shores of the United States.

A COUNTDOWN

Among the many who have seen the development of the sport in the country from close quarters is former Karnataka cricketer and coach, J Arunkumar, who became the head coach of USA in 2020. While the Covid pandemic made things difficult for him and USA cricket, Arunkumar was with the team for over two years before leaving in late 2022. In this period, USA recorded their first-ever T20I win over a full-member nation, beating Ireland in 2021 (they also beat Scotland in the ODI format). For Arunkumar, the experience was a learning curve where he had to work towards building a cricketing culture. "There's no USA culture as its own (in cricket). So how to get a cricketing culture, a team culture to win? How everybody could buy into that and then play for the team, although they're from different races? So, that was a good challenge and we did well," says Arunkumar.

"The facilities and funding (were the biggest challenge). US cricket had very little funding. So having a camp was very difficult. Even the boys had to take leave, take off from their official work. Be on loss of pay and then play for the country. That was a big challenge because they didn't have central contracts at that time. I think they got about $250 for a match in the country. That's not good enough money. So they're leaving their jobs which paid them much more. It was a very big struggle for us because we had to look after that in the development of USA cricket also."

With cricket not being a mainstream sport in schools and colleges, there are not enough grounds. However, things seem to be changing for the better over the past few years. With the Minor and Major League Cricket coming into fray, and the IPL franchises getting involved, there is more buzz about cricket. Even more so with the inclusion of cricket in the Los Angeles Olympics 2028. "There's a very positive sign from everybody and a lot of schools that started getting cricket in the curriculum now as the main sport, from basketball and baseball. Let's be honest, in the end, it's a very sporting nation. Whichever sport USA take up, they take it to a really big level. And money was not big in cricket. When the facilities are not good or you're playing for the country and not making any money, people can't choose this as a career. Once the money is good, everyone will pick up the sport. The Olympics, the World Cup, which is happening here is fantastic. It will probably encourage the locals also to take up this game and understand what it is. I think in the next five years, it will be known as an accepted sport in the USA."

One has to wait and see how the future pans out. For now, the USA, who are set to make their T20 World Cup debut, are all about making dreams come true. Especially for many players like Harmeet who let go of the past in the pursuit of the proverbial American dream. "I've grown a lot, playing professional cricket for different franchises, different state teams and all that. If you just understand the meaning of professionalism... It is just doing your job for the team," says Harmeet.

"Also, I owe it to America because they have given me this opportunity and made my dream come true. It's like an American dream, right? So, whatever opportunities I was craving for in India, I got it here. I think my feelings have only gotten better and stronger for this country. That whatever I was not getting (in the past), I'm getting it now. For this country, for this team."

GETTING READY

Indian players during a training session for the T20 World Cup in New York on Tuesday. India will play Bangladesh in a warm-up on Saturday | PTI

SOUTH AFRICA

STRENGTHS: Despite never winning the T20 World Cup, this looks like the best opportunity for South Africa to break the voodoo in the ICC events. Led by Aiden Markram, SA boasts the likes of destructive Heinrich Klaasen and experienced Kagiso Rabada in their squad.

DRAWBACKS: Since the previous World Cup in 2022, South Africa have played 11 fixtures, but have only managed to win two matches. Their recent T20I series against West Indies, without a few big names, showed a lack of depth and experience in the conditions.

WCs won: nil

SCHEDULE
Jun 3: vs Sri Lanka
Jun 8: vs Netherlands
Jun 10: vs Bangladesh
Jun 15: vs Nepal

SRI LANKA

STRENGTHS: Sri Lanka has won seven and lost eight fixtures since the previous World Cup and they have been fairly dominant in their run. Their bowling has been made strong by the likes of Wainadu Hasaranga and Matheesha Pathirana. The introduction of Dunith Wellalage, young slow left-arm spinner, makes them even stronger on the slow pitches in the Caribbeans.

DRAWBACKS: Since winning the trophy in 2014, Sri Lanka has not made it to the knockouts of the T20 WC. They have won the last T20I series they were part of, but none of it has come in American conditions. Like many other teams of the competition, Sri Lanka has not played T20I cricket together in months and it will be interesting to see how well they can play together

SCHEDULE Jun 3: vs South Africa; Jun 8: vs Bangladesh; Jun 12: vs Nepal; Jun 17: vs Netherlands

PROTEAS, ASIA'S HOTTEST RIVALRY & PASSIONATE REGIONAL TEAMS

With the T20 World Cup approaching soon, here is a look at group D where Sri Lanka, Bangladesh, South Africa, Nepal and Netherlands will compete in West Indies for World Cup glory..

BANGLADESH

STRENGTHS: Bangladesh have played 25 T20Is and have won 16 of them. Amongst the full-member nations, only India have won more T20I fixtures than the South Asian team since the World Cup in 2022. The return of the second-highest wicket-taker in the format in Shakib Al Hasan makes Bangladesh one of the sides who can make it to the next round.

DRAWBACKS: Bangladesh are under their new captain Najmul Hossain Shanto in this WC, who recently got the responsibility in all formats. Under his leadership, Bangladesh finished eighth in the ODI WC & they would want a better result in the shortest format.

WCs won: nil

SCHEDULE Jun 8: vs Sri Lanka; Jun 10: vs South Africa; Jun 13: vs Netherlands; Jun 17: vs Nepal

NETHERLANDS

STRENGTHS: Playing their sixth T20I World Cup and coming off after their most successful World Cup in 2022 since the 2009 edition, the Netherlands were the only non-full member to qualify directly for the World Cup other than hosts USA. Their dominant record against South Africa, who are most likely to make it to the next round, might help the Netherlands sneak through the group stage.

DRAWBACKS: The Netherlands have only played nine T20Is since the previous World Cup and not many have come against the top-ranked sides, which might help them when it comes to sides like Sri Lanka and Bangladesh.

WCs won: nil

SCHEDULE Jun 4: vs Nepal; Jun 8: vs South Africa Jun 13: vs Bangladesh; Jun 17: vs Sri Lanka

NEPAL

STRENGTHS: Playing their first World Cup since the 2014 edition, where they played in the group stage, Nepal qualified for the T20 World Cup in the USA and West Indies in front of the home crowd through the Asia Qualifier. Ahead of the tournament, they have played a few practice matches in the region, which could come in handy for the team.

DRAWBACKS: Like many associate nations in the competition, Nepal have not had a lot of experience playing against the top-ranked sides in the world. Despite all the practice fixtures and sessions in the region, having not played in the region before could harm their chances given the experienced sides in the group.

Swiatek prevails in a thriller over Osaka

AGENCIES @ Paris

IGA Swiatek and Naomi Osaka played out a match of such pristine quality that this could well have been worthy of the final. In the end, the Pole, World No. 1 and prohibitive favourite to win the French Open next Saturday, just about prevailed 7-6 (1), 1-6, 7-5 in an affair which lasted almost three hours.

However, Osaka's part shouldn't be downplayed. For the majority of the evening on the Parisian clay, the Japanese, who had been off the circuit for over a year, was playing lights out tennis. The depth on her groundstrokes as well as the way she was serving clearly had Swiatek in all sorts of bother. But Swiatek, the defending champion, had to save a match point in a topsy turvy third set before winning six of the last seven games to advance into the third round.

Earlier on a rain-hit fourth day, world No 3 Carlos Alcaraz survived a huge scare at the hands of 176th-ranked Dutch qualifier Jesper de Jong to reach the third round after a four-set triumph. Wimbledon champion Alcaraz, who made the semifinals at Roland Garros last year, scrambled to a 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2 second round victory over a player taking part in only his second Grand Slam main draw. Meanwhile, Ons Jabeur beat Camila Osorio 6-3, 1-6, 6-3 in the women's singles to enter the third round.

2nd Indian Grand Prix athletic meet today

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

THE Tamil Nadu Athletic Association, under the aegis of the Athletic Federation of India, will organise the 2nd Indian Grand Prix athletic meet at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium in Chennai on Thursday. Top athletes from all over India and in particular those athletes from the Indian camp will be competing for honours in nine events — 200m, 400m, 400m hurdles, 1500m, 5000m, pole vault, triple jump, shot put and javelin throw. This event is significant as athletes who perform well have a chance to qualify for the upcoming Paris Olympics.

Sharvari Parulekar from Maharashtra, Maria Jaison from Kerela and Abdullah Aboobacker from Kerela are prominent names in the action. From Tamil Nadu, the likes of Santhosh, Avinash, Vidhya Ramraj, Rosy Meena and Mohammed Salahuddin are some of the athletes who will be vying for top honours. If they perform well, the likes of Aboobacker and Santhosh have a chance to make it to Paris. One of the talking points is the hot and humid weather in the city. Former India cricket team trainer, Ramji Srinivasan, insists that players have to stay hydrated at any cost. "Hydration is very important. You have to keep your body hydrated because heat and humidity are a lethal combination that can sap the performance. Adequate hydration and proper nutrition must be taken well before considering the weather conditions," said Ramji.

Prathiksha Yamuna A from Tamil Nadu, who will be participating in the triple jump, is not too worried as the events are set begin in the afternoon by 3 pm. "Yes, the heat will be there a little bit. But I have taken the necessary measures to be hydrated and energized for the competition. The competition is pretty tough because many experienced jumpers will be participating. The best jumpers to vie for top honours will be Sharvari Parulekar and Aishwarya. But I will give my best shot as I have prepared well," insisted Yamuna. Adille Sumariwalla, vice-president of World Athletics and president of AFI, will be the chief guest and flag off the event.

Arundhati, Ankushita & Nishant win

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

NOT so long ago, Arundhati Choudhary had faced a tough choice. The boxer from Rajasthan had proven that she was a certified talent by claiming gold at the 2021 AIBA Youth World Boxing Championships in Poland. But that success had come at a weight category (69kg) that is not part of the Olympic programme. Arundhati had a tough choice then; she was well-aware that she needed to shift. So, Arundhati opted for 66kg. However, she was up against Yang Liu of China in the Round of 16 in the Asian Games (the first quota event). Yang went on to win the gold.

On Wednesday, she got a step closer to her Olympic dreams by registering a 5-0 win over Stephanie Pieneiro of Puerto Rico. With that win, she entered the pre-quarterfinals.

Ankushita Boro (60kg) beat Rimma Volossenko of Kazakhstan to march into quarters. Nishant Dev (71kg) also got closer to his Paris dreams with a 5-0 win over Peerapat Yeasungnoen of Thailand. He reached the quarterfinals.

IBA cash prize for Paris medallists, IOC irked

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE International Olympic Committee (IOC) and the International Boxing Association (IBA) could be at loggerheads once again. In what could be seen as a cynical move, the IBA has announced prize money for Olympic medallists in Paris. The catch, however, is that IBA is not recognized by the IOC and is not involved in organising the event either.

IBA president Umar Kremlev said the gold medallists will become eligible to fight for the champions' titles at IBA Champions' Night events too. He said that the prize fund is over $13 million for 13 main categories, of which seven are men's and six women's. In Paris, the IBA said gold medallist will get $50,000, while silver and bronze medallists are set to get $25,000 and $12,500. Taking note of IBA's decision, the IOC raised doubts about the source of IBA's funds. "As always with the IBA, it is unclear where the money is coming from," the IOC said in a statement to this daily. "This total lack of financial transparency was exactly one of the reasons why the IOC withdrew its recognition... The IBA was not prepared to transparently explain the sources of its financing..." The IOC also explained that the IBA has no involvement with the Paris Olympics Games. "The qualifications and the Olympic tournaments were and are being organised by boxing units set up by the IOC, to protect the athletes, the National Boxing Federations and their respective National Olympic Committees (NOCs)..."

Starting June 11, Europe's Schengen visa fee will increase from ₹7,216 to ₹8,118 approximately.

MONSOON MEANDERINGS...

ROMAL LAISRAM

GREY skies, rumbling thunder, bright bolts of lightning, incessant rains and a rough sea that scares the uninitiated but welcomes the lover — these beaches on the Malabar Coast and on the meeting point of the Karavali and Konkan Coasts can be the most beautiful destinations for a quick getaway if rains and stormy waters are your kind of thing. It surely is ours and we piece together a list of four 'monsoon meanderings' that promise you tried and tested holidays nothing short of magic.

While most people tend to avoid beaches during the peak of the rainy season, pluviophiles can head to these chaotic coastal paradises in Kerala and Karnataka for an adventurous holiday to remember...

Om Beach, Gokarna, Uttara Kannada, Karnataka

Just across a hillock from Kudla/Kudle Beach is the famous Om Beach and its equally famous jewel, Namaste Café. Legendary among backpackers and beach bodies for its great food, the café on the beach is usually deserted during the monsoon and therefore makes for great private getaway. If the sea isn't too stormy, you can also ask local fishermen to take you on a boat ride to Paradise Beach (across another hillock) or just choose to relax on this empty beach that you might just have to yourself. Several trekking paths are open during the monsoon and all you need to do is ensure you have good waterproof trekking gear to enjoy the pleasant weather as you scale these verdant heights. Stay at Kahaani Paradise, 5 kms from Om Beach. Closest airport: Dabolim, Goa. Closest railway head: Gokarna Road.

Fort Beach, Bekal, Kasaragod, Kerala

Kerala is most famous for beach towns like Varkala and Kochi, but tucked away in its nothern most district, Kasaragod, is the town of Bekal — that is most famous for the well-preserved Bekal Fort and the beach beside it. Famously known as the location where the song Uyire Uyire/ Tu Hi Re/ Urike Chilaka from Mani Ratnam's Bombay (1995) was shot, the picturesque town has also gone on to become a popular tourist destination on its own merit. As pictured in the song, the monsoon here can be one of the most spectacular views you could ask for. It's one of our personal favourites. Nothing beats the waves crashing against the fort — that runs into the sea — on a surprisingly private beach. Stay at The LaLiT Resort & Spa Bekal. Closest airport: Mangaluru, Karnataka. Closest railway head: Kasaragod or Kanhangad, both approximately 15 kms away.

Kudla Beach, Gokarna, Uttara Kannada, Karnataka

Pack your favourite beach wear and good hiking shoes, as a monsoon getaway to Kudla/Kudle Beach in Gokarna can be the best holiday you've ever asked for. From umpteen beach shacks and restaurants that will allow you to just laze around and do as you please, to some of the best trekking routes with verdant picturesque views all along the way — this holiday can be a gift to your soul. Nights can get chilly, so warm clothes are recommended. Stay at Kudle Beach View Resort and Spa. Closest airport: Dabolim, Goa. Closest railway head: Gokarna Road.

Pozhiyoor Beach, Poovar, Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala

In the extreme south of Kerala is one of its least known gems — Poovar — that should be known for its beautiful beaches and even prettier backwaters. Multiple beaches here are called Golden Sand Beach (Pozhiyoor included) and all of them are equally pretty. Take your pick, beach or float around in a houseboat as it meanders through the backwaters. Monsoons here are particularly beautiful and for some inexplicable reason, clock in lesser tourists. While the rains might affect the quality of the seafood available, everything else works out to be better. You could also take a boatride through the lush mangrove forests. Stay at The Leela Kovalam, a Raviz Hotel, just 15 kms away and a hop, skip and jump from Kovalam Beach. Closest airport and railway head: Thiruvananthapuram.

Uttarakhand's Valley of Flowers opens to tourists, this June!

SRUSHTI KULKARNI

The National Park boasting over 500 species of flowering plants is gearing up to welcome visitors next month and here's everything to know before you pay a visit...

TREKKERS and nature enthusiasts, mark your calendars! Starting June 1 this year, the enchanting Valley of Flowers National Park in India will open its doors to visitors. Nestled within the Nanda Devi Biosphere Reserve, the Valley of Flowers has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 2005, recognised for its breathtaking natural beauty and rich biodiversity. Believed to have been discovered in 1931, three British mountaineers – led by Frank S Smythe – lost their way and chanced upon this valley and named it the Valley of Flowers.

Upon entering the Valley of Flowers, visitors are greeted by an explosion of colours and fragrances. The valley spans approximately 87.5 square kilometres in the Chamoli district and is home to over 500 species of flowering plants. Early blooms of potentilla, wild rose and primrose have been reported due to snowmelt, according to the official website of Uttarakhand Tourism. From June to September, the valley transforms into a vibrant mosaic of blue poppies, purple orchids, yellow marigolds and countless other blossoms swaying in the mountain breeze. The monsoon season extends accessibility to the Valley of Flowers trek until October and November.

Travellers planning to visit this floral paradise can start their journey from Govindghat or Pulna village. Govindghat, perched at around 6,000 feet above sea level, serves as the starting point for the trek, which is a 3-day and 17 km adventure through this floral wonderland. As visitors explore the Valley of Flowers, they can also witness the diverse wildlife that calls this region home, including the elusive snow leopard, blue sheep, musk deer and Himalayan black bear amidst the rugged terrain. Birdwatchers can delight in sightings of colourful Himalayan monals and other avian species that inhabit this pristine landscape. For those seeking a truly immersive experience, local guides are available to lead treks and provide insights into the flora, fauna and history of the region.

Additionally one can explore nearby attractions such as Hemkund Sahib, a revered Sikh pilgrimage site dedicated to Guru Gobind Singh. The trek to Hemkund Sahib is challenging, but the sight of the crystal-clear glacial lake surrounded by seven snow-capped peaks makes the journey profoundly rewarding.

Visitors are advised to check the official website of Uttarakhand Tourism for updates on weather conditions and trekking permits before planning their trip. The village can be reached by cab or private vehicle from the nearest railway station in Rishikesh, approximately 262 km away, or the Jolly Grant Airport in Dehradun, about 270 km away.

A still from the play

Theatre artiste Samragni Dasgupta is bringing the adaptation of her Indo-German collaborative play which explores themes of loneliness and human connection

IN SILENCES

POOJA DAS

IN an age where we have become so used to being behind screens and filters, the act of letting someone truly see you as you are can prove to be more frightening than one expects. Bringing this idea of loneliness as one navigates their life to stage is The Earthquake, premiering in the city this weekend. Delving deep into themes of human connection and the unspoken words that often hang heavily in our interpersonal relationships, the play is an adaptation of the Indo-German play Bhumikampa– Das Erdbeben, co-written by German playwright Marvin Krause and Bengaluru-based theatre artiste Samragni Dasgupta. The original play was written in English, German and Bengali. "We met through an Indo-German exchange programme, which was conducted by Theatre Lab Youth, which is run by Kirtana Kumar in Bengaluru, and Schauburg Theater Munich. We spent three weeks on a farm in India. And then we spent three weeks in Munich. Through this process, Marvin and I became friends and we decided to write something together," recounts Dasgupta.

In her exchange programme, Dasgupta realised that the common thread that they could relate to was none other than loneliness. "Through these conversations, what we realised is that loneliness and mental health is something that is really common between the youth of Germany and the youth of India, it's something that's a global issue," shares the writer-director. In the adaptation, the universal themes remain intact, as Dasgupta puts it. "The play is written in such a way that depending on interpretation, it can be adapted to any space. Because it is about the universal themes of loneliness."

While the original script was in English, German and Bengali, the current performance will be in English, Malayalam and Hindi wherein the German texts were adapted into Malayalam and the Bengali texts were translated and adapted into Hindi by the two performers Lesley Amol Simeon and Thamam Mubarish. Shania Matthew, assistant director, adds, "The adaptation is different in the sense that when Sam and Marvin collaborated, it was an international collaboration. The themes, though universal, when you look at it regionally, you will be able to see a different approach to mental health. Once it was adapted, we needed a lot of interpretation from the actors, so much so, that parts of them are embedded in the script, which is what makes the adaptation unique."

Central to the play is the evolving relationship between two friends, Sameer and Matthew, who meet weekly to share an apple. This simple routine masks the complex emotions and unspoken tensions between them. "As an audience member, you are thrust upon one of these moments with them but they know there's something different about this meeting. Something has changed in the dynamic. In the end, it is about expectations. Because these two characters, they're struggling with this sense of not knowing who they are to each other and who they are without each other as well," explains Dasgupta.

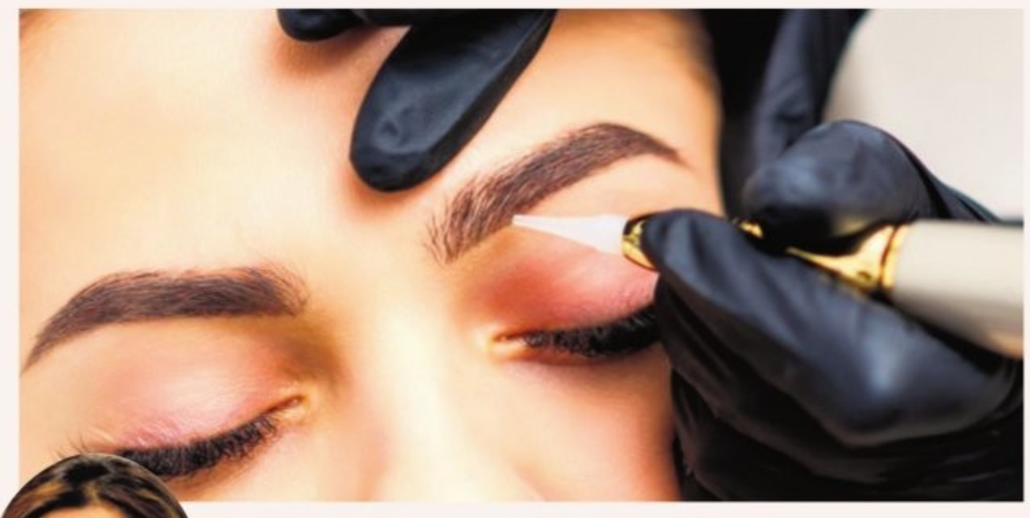
Matthew highlights that the play deals with a lot of vulnerable themes which are self-reflective in nature. "Something that we really look into is that you might consider a lot of people close to you, but even then you might find yourself lonely. There is this quote that resonates with what the play is about – if we want the rewards of being loved, we have to submit to the mortifying ordeal of being known," says Matthew.

The one-hour play was a 'challenging' yet 'therapeutic' endeavour for Dasgupta, as she transitioned from performer to director and witnessed others bring the characters to life. "It was a process where we not only had to confront what the characters were saying, and how their words impacted who these characters are, but it was also the process for us to confront ourselves in a lot of ways and to confront our personal nature," she adds. Dasgupta assures that the play offers a unique experience to each viewer. "The script's interpretation depends heavily on the audience's perspectives. I can guarantee you that there won't be more than three people in the audience who walk out with the same interpretation," concludes Dasgupta.

(The Earthquake will be staged on May 31 and June 5, 7.30pm at Vyoma ArtSpace and Studio Theatre, JP Nagar and Max Mueller Bhavan, Indiranagar, respectively)

24*7 lip and cheek tints, eyebrow enhancements, and even-skin glows...B'lureans can say goodbye to filters as permanent makeup takes spotlight

The price ranges between ₹3,000 and ₹25,000. Bengalurueans are not only about flamboyance, beauty and looks, they want to be sure of what they're signing up for
Preeya, makeup artist



RISE & SHINE

POOJA DAS

EVER imagine a life where you can wake up with that perfect winged eyeliner or those flawless rosy cheeks without lifting a finger? That is what the rising trend of permanent makeup promises with #wokeuplookinglikethis which offers a way to simplify beauty routines in an era where juggling self-care, work, and looking impeccable at the same time might become overwhelming. "It's simply like a tattoo but while a tattoo goes much deeper and stays for a lifetime, in permanent makeup, the ink is deposited in the dermis (middle) level of the skin, so it stays for a year and a half. Actually, it is more appropriate if we call it semi-permanent makeup," shares makeup artist Priyadarshini Pandurangan, who goes by Preeya.

The seasoned bridal makeup artist for over a decade shares that she found her calling in the beauty industry after working in the corporate sector for nine years. "I realised I wanted something different after being in the telecom business for so long," recalls Preeya, who recently opened a permanent makeup studio on St.Mark's Road. "Whenever I did bridal makeup, I would come back thinking that the girl was so beautiful...if only she had slightly thicker brows like the one I gave her temporarily, the look would have been so good on an everyday basis. This gave way for me to start exploring the industry of permanent makeup," she shares.

Permanent makeup includes a range of procedures, including eyebrow enhancement, lip tinting, cheek tinting, and BB Glow – a technique for achieving an even skin tone. More advanced options like scalp pigmentation cater to those with thinning hair, creating the illusion of volume. "The pigment is nothing but ink which is friendly with the skin and the reflection of the ink is what gives it the appearance of fuller eyebrows or maybe a tinted cheek or a tinted lip or even-looking skin," explains Preeya adding, "The duration of the procedures vary according to the procedure...an eyeliner takes about 45 minutes while lip tinting can take two hours"

Preeya says that this kind of makeup, ranging in price between ₹3,000 and ₹25,000, is becoming popular, especially among professionals, mothers, and those who prefer a low-maintenance beauty routine. "Imagine waking up with perfect eyebrows or tinted lips without any effort," she says. However, she also emphasises the importance of understanding the procedure and choosing a skilled practitioner. "People in Bengaluru are very careful because they are not only about flamboyance, beauty and looks, they want to be sure of what they're signing up for."

She advises potential clients to observe basic hygiene practices in the studio, such as the use of gloves, masks, and fresh needles. "It's similar to a tattoo procedure – cleanliness and safety are non-negotiable." Post-procedure care is also critical. "Avoid direct sun exposure, keep the treated area dry for 24 hours, and refrain from using makeup or soap on the area for seven to 10 days so that skin can heal properly," she adds.

The second edition of the Punyah Dance Festival is back this weekend

Classical Collective

Parshwanath Upadhyaya

MONIKA MONALISA

BHARATANATYAM dancer Parshwanath Upadhyaya is caught up with the preparation of the second edition of the Punyah Dance Festival, which is happening this weekend. "It's like a mini dance conference for two days," says Upadhyaya against the background of classical music.

There is a reason for this. The dance festival has solo presentations of Kuchipudi, Mohiniyattam, and Bharatanatyam. Apart from the group demonstration and various dance formations, the show also has panel discussions and workshops. Upadhyaya has also included much for non-dancers to get them involved. "This is the best opportunity where they can come closer to the classical art form; most of the dancers are performing artistes who have been performing extensively for many decades now. So they understand the pulse of every generation in the audience. They are not just dancing for the classical audience but they are also performing for the general masses, trying to bring the platform closer to the masses without distorting the aesthetics of the classical art form," explains Upadhyaya. He further adds, "The panel discussion includes dancers who will talk about their experiences and expectations from classical dancers and classical events."

Preeti Bharadhwaj

Upadhyaya urges everyone to be part of as many programmes as possible. And for non-dancers and young audiences, he suggests not missing Preeti Bharadhwaj's performance. "She is doing a performace called Murugan's Day Out, which is a contemporary approach to an ancient story," says Upadhyaya, adding that the festival also has some old productions like Abha and Paartha.

The festival also has a segment called Kaleidoscope. "It is a choreography where Bharatanatyam is going to be shown in the form of a kaleidoscope," he says, adding that they have been preparing for it for the past three months. Another addition is a bhajan sabha by Chikhale Bhajana Mandali. "Whether you are religious or not, their music will surely touch you," he signs off.

(Punyah Dance Festival is happening between June 1 and 2, at Ravindra Kalakshetra, JC Road)

MISS-FIT

Wanitha Ashok

The expert is a Fit India Movement Ambassador and celebrity fitness coach

Since the start of my fitness journey, I have been hearing a lot about inch loss v/s weight loss. What's the real difference between them and what should I aim for?

ASK AN XPERT

Inch loss and weight loss serve different purposes. Inch loss focuses on reducing body measurements, enhancing body shape, and toning muscles, while weight loss targets overall body weight reduction. Opting for a combination of both through a balanced diet, cardio, and strength training is ideal for overall well-being and body composition.

Inch loss refers to the reduction in body measurements, such as waist, hips, and thighs, that can be physically measured in inches. It is associated with a decrease in body fat percentage while maintaining or increasing muscle mass, resulting in a more toned and sculpted appearance. The needle on the scale moves to the right when you strength train and consume adequate protein. This is due to muscle mass and bone density gain.

Weight loss, on the other hand, is the overall reduction in total body weight, which may or may not be from fat loss alone, it can also be due to muscle mass loss and water loss.

Inch loss is considered a healthier goal than just focusing on weight loss, as it indicates a reduction in body fat while preserving and increasing beneficial muscle mass.

A few days ago, actor Fahadh Faasil revealed that he had been recently diagnosed with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder. Here is a clear understanding of the condition and its treatment

PAY ATTENTION!

FAHADH Faasil, a renowned actor recently disclosed that he has been diagnosed with ADHD at the age of 41. Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) is a neurodevelopmental disorder often characterised by symptoms such as inattention, hyperactivity, and impulsiveness. While ADHD is often diagnosed in childhood, it can persist into adulthood and sometimes go undiagnosed for years. This revelation has brought attention to the prevalence and impact of ADHD in adults, that highlights the importance of recognising and addressing this condition at any age.

ADHD in adults can present differently than in children. Adults may experience chronic disorganisation, difficulty maintaining focus, impulsivity, and time management issues. ADHD can often go undetected for many years, especially in those who develop coping strategies that conceal their symptoms. A late diagnosis can be a relief, as it provides clarity and a path to effective treatment.

Coping with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) when diagnosed later in life involves several strategies aimed at managing symptoms and improving daily functioning. Here are some effective ways to cope with the situation:

1 SEEK PROFESSIONAL HELP

Diagnosis and Treatment: Consult a healthcare professional for a proper diagnosis. Treatment often includes medication, which can help manage symptoms by improving focus and reducing impulsivity.

Therapy: Cognitive-behavioural therapy (CBT) has shown to be advantageous. It helps individuals develop coping strategies, improve organisational skills, and manage emotional challenges associated with ADHD.

2 IMPLEMENT ORGANISATIONAL STRATEGIES

Create Routines: Creating daily routines can bring structure to the day. Consistency helps in managing time and stay on track

Use Tools: Utilise planners, apps, and reminder systems to keep track of appointments, deadlines, and tasks. Breaking the tasks into small steps can make them more achievable and less overwhelming.

3 DEVELOP HEALTHY HABITS

Regular Exercise: Physical activity can improve concentration, reduce stress, and enhance overall mental health. It is crucial to aim for regular exercise, such as walking, jogging, or yoga.

Mindfulness and Meditation: Practices like mindfulness meditation helps to improve attention and reduce impulsive behaviour. Dedicating even a few minutes of the day for meditation will make a significant difference in coping with the disease.

4 BUILD A SUPPORT SYSTEM

Communicate Openly: Talking to family and friends about your ADHD is important. Support from loved ones can provide emotional comfort.

Join Support Groups: Connecting with others who have ADHD can offer encouragement, share strategies, and reduce feelings of isolation. Support groups, either in person or online, can be very helpful.

5 LIFESTYLE ADJUSTMENTS

Healthy Diet: Nutrients rich balanced diet is beneficial. Certain foods can affect concentration and energy levels, so eating healthy can support overall well-being.

Adequate Sleep: Ensure to get enough restful sleep each night. Good sleep hygiene can significantly impact attention and mood.

Fahadh Faasil

By implementing these strategies, individuals diagnosed with ADHD later in life can better manage their symptoms and lead a more organised and fulfilling life.

TAP TO KEEP PAIN AT BAY

IN today's fast-paced world, a significant number of people experience various types of body discomfort and pain due to prolonged hours of sitting or standing. Whether working at the office or from home, the sedentary lifestyle can lead to issues like back pain, headaches, and other body aches. This is common among children and adults. Many of us see pain as an issue but it is in fact a symptom sent by our body's in-built alarm system to make us aware about something that might be going wrong inside. And, if ignored, could lead to chronic discomfort.

V Margaret Rani, an acupuncture therapist at Starrow Wellness Center in Coimbatore, offers an accessible solution through acupressure. An ancient healing art with roots in traditional Chinese medicine, acupressure operates on the basis of the body's vital energy, known as Qi, that flows through specific pathways called meridians. According to traditional Chinese medicine, when the flow of Qi is disrupted, it can cause pain and illness. By applying pressure to certain points on these meridians, acupressure aims to restore the balance of Qi, thereby promoting health and well-being.

Margaret used acupressure for the first time when her mother's blood pressure rose high. She noticed that by gently tapping on the specific pressure point, she found her pressure drop from 160 to 130 instantly. "Certain points are considered as the first aid points," she says. Another incident when she had applied acupressure was when one of her patients had fainted. Margaret got the patient back to consciousness by gently tapping on two such pressure points.

Unlike acupuncture, which involves inserting thin needles into the body, acupressure can be performed with only our fingers and be practised at home. Margaret says, "The gentle touch on these points can be as effective as needle insertion." She shares some easy acupressure techniques, that and can alleviate pain and discomfort from our body. Give a gentle tap on these points for 15 times to activate them.

● Pain above the hip: This pain caused due to sitting for prolonged hours, can be relieved by targeting a pressure point, located on the back of your hand, between the base of your thumb and the index finger and giving it a gentle tap.

● Fever: To help reduce fever by inducing thermoregulation, tap on the pressure point in the depression of the 'seventh cervical process'. Sit with your head bent forward, and locate your finger on your spine at the back of your neck.

● Fainting: In case you see someone faint, tap on two crucial pressure points that need to be activated. The first is located midway between the upper lip and the nose. The second, is on the radial side of the thumb, at the bottom corner of the nail.

● For blood circulation: The pressure points for enhancing blood flow are located on the inner side of each wrist. By tapping these points on a daily basis, you can stimulate blood circulation and issues related to poor blood flow.

● Body activeness: To keep your body active and stay energetic, massage the tips of your fingers and toes where you can feel the skin. Rub oil onto your fingers, and gently massage each finger and toe, for about 15 seconds. This practice done in the morning, will help invigorate your body and keep you active throughout the day.

● High blood pressure: Manage high blood pressure by focusing on a specific pressure point on your foot. Place your foot flat on the floor, and keep your finger in the gap between your big toe and the toe next to it. Now slide your finger down for about two finger widths onto your foot, and tap here.

These acupressure techniques offer an effective way to manage aches, and promote overall physical well-being without the need for medical intervention. "While acupuncture requires a visit to the clinic, acupressure is a self-help method that can be easily practised at home," says Margaret.

Startup partners with Cambridge to automate cancer genome interpretation

Bengaluru-based informatics startup G-KnowMe has joined forces with researchers at the University of Cambridge and the Cambridge University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (CUH) to develop an automated workflow for interpreting data from sequencing the entire genome of cancers. Despite the wealth of information from cancer genome sequencing for personalised treatment, interpreting the data is a major hurdle due to the vast amount of unstructured scientific data. This collaboration aims to develop an automated system using AI to unlock this potential and improve cancer management.

The benefits of the magical mango

NUTRIWISE

Sadhvika Srinivas

The writer is a clinical nutritionist who attends to metabolic disorders. She also works towards sports nutrition

MANGOES, often hailed as the 'king of fruits', are a tropical delight cherished for their exquisite taste, vibrant colours, and rich nutritional profile. Believed to have originated in South Asia, mangoes have a long history dating back thousands of years, where they were revered not only for their delicious flavour but also for their cultural significance. Today, mangoes are enjoyed worldwide and are cultivated in tropical and subtropical regions.

The mango is of great economic value worldwide and of great nutritional importance. Its functional effects are due to numerous important nutrients and bioactive compounds. Mango is a climacteric fruit, capable of developing characteristic ripening-associated changes such as colour, aroma, and taste, before or after harvest

The very diverse phytochemical components in mango fruit can be classified into several groups including macronutrients such as carbohydrates (sugars, pectin, and cellulose), proteins, lipids (Ω-3 and Ω-6 fatty acids); micronutrients such as vitamins A and C, minerals, pigments (chlorophylls, carotenoids, and anthocyanins, depending on the cultivar), phenolic compounds (phenolic acids and flavonoids), and volatile compounds.

Some of the main bioactive compounds identified in mango fruit include phenolic acids (coumaric acid, ferulic acid and hydroxybenzoic acid), polyphenols (quercetin, mangiferin, catechins, tannins, kaempferol, anthocyanins, gallic acid, ellagic acid), carotenoids, which are the most abundant, and the vitamins ascorbic acid, thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin. These compounds have been reported to exhibit antioxidant activity and contribute to the prevention of cancer, diabetes mellitus (DM), and cardiovascular disease and inflammatory processes.

The mango is rich in nutrients such as carbohydrates, fatty acids, vitamins, and minerals as well as non-nutrient compounds including organic acids, dietary fibre, polyphenols, carotenoids, and other pigments.

Nutrients

■ Energy: The energy value of mango fruit pulp varies from 60 to 190 kcal per 100 g

■ Carbohydrates: Ripe mango fruits are rich in sugars (glucose, fructose, sucrose), starch, pectin, and cellulose. The ripe mango fruit pulp is about 15 per cent soluble sugars, which contribute to the sweet flavour and the structure of the fruit. Simple sugars favour obesity and obesity-related diseases, hence, the high intake of particular types of mangoes is not advisable for certain age groups therefore, the high-level intake of particular forms of mango is not advisable in certain age groups such as children because several studies have demonstrated the pro-obesity effects as it can increase hepatic and circulatory triglyceride as well as low-density lipoprotein levels.

■ Minerals: Mangoes provide calcium, copper, iron, magnesium, manganese, phosphorus, potassium, selenium, sodium, and zinc to the human diet. Mango seeds and peels also contain significant amounts, in descending order, of calcium, potassium, magnesium, sodium, iron, manganese, zinc, and copper.

■ Protein: The protein content of the mango is low, ranging between 0.5 and 5.5 per cent, depending on the cultivar and several other physiological and cultural factors. Alanine, arginine, glycine, isoleucine, leucine, and serine were the predominant amino acids found in fully ripe mango fruit, with all other amino acids present in only trace amounts.

■ Vitamins: Changes in vitamin C content during mango ripening include higher levels in partially ripe mango fruit than in fully-ripe mangoes. Mango fruit contains provitamin A carotenoids such as alpha-carotene and beta-carotene. The contents of vitamins E and K in mango fruit are low or moderate, while vitamin D is absent in this fruit. B vitamins in the fruit include B1 (thiamin), B2 (riboflavin), B3 (niacin), B5 (pantothenic acid), B6 (pyridoxine, pyridoxal, and pyridoxamine), and B9 (folate or folic acid).

Incorporating mangoes into a balanced diet can contribute to overall health and well-being. However, like any food, it's essential to consume them in moderation as part of a varied diet to reap their nutritional benefits without overloading on sugars or calories.

'I watch Gangs of Wasseypur every year'

...Says filmmaker Anmol Sidhu as he reflects on the process of making his recent film Jaggi

SHREYAS PANDE

SOME films tell their stories with a cool poise and a glossy sheen, while others are true to life and unfiltered. Anmol Sidhu's Jaggi belongs to the latter category. Released recently on Mubi, the film is filled with raw, visceral energy. It tells the scathing story of a teenager who is repeatedly assaulted by his school seniors for his impotence. Anmol studies the toxic effects of masculinity and how it has been impacting young boys in rural Punjab.

It is inspired by some real-life stories that left an impact on the filmmaker. Particularly, it was an incident narrated to him by a friend studying at a boarding school that disturbed him the most. "He told me that a kid in class 8 was repeatedly raped by his seniors. The kid later attempted self-harm and also stopped coming to school," Anmol says. He recalls how his notions on masculinity were also influenced by what he saw his seniors do to the juniors in school. Finally, it was when he started doing theatre that his worldview changed. "We lived with the trans community for a while, and that made me understand gender," he says. "Earlier, I did not think much about these things, but then I realized that calling anyone with disrespectful names can have a bad effect on their psyche."

Anmol's gaze in the film is empathetic, vulnerable, and at the same time filled with rage, as he employs long takes with minimal cuts to portray the action unfolding on screen. "I like watching such films myself," he says while talking about the unhurried nature of his filmmaking. "Long takes give a feeling of watching a play, where you are witnessing something without any disturbance."

He also credits Romanian filmmaker Cristian Mungiu's 2007 film 4 Months, 3 Weeks and 2 Days as a major influence for the style of Jaggi. Moreover, it was the presenter of the film, Anurag Kashyap, who indirectly inspired him to make it. "First of all, I watch Gangs of Wasseypur (2012) at least once every year. I just love Anurag sir's films," he says. Initially, Jaggi was planned to be a short film of over 40 minutes. However, during the Covid lockdown, the financier backed out, causing a major hurdle. This gave Anmol more time to understand the nuances of writing a screenplay as he developed the story further. He still did not have proper equipment and camera to shoot the film. "During that time, I came across some videos of Anurag sir where he talked about how films can be shot even on phones," says Anmol, who has also edited the film. "I kept watching many of his videos on indie filmmaking which pushed me to make this film."

Along with his team of actors, Anmol got a camera but did not know how to use it. "We took help from a wedding photographer who shot some scenes in the film. Eventually, we learnt the basics of the camera from him and started to operate it ourselves," he reflects.
